NO. 259—EIGHTIETH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1938 | EIGHTEEN PAGES

SAY PLAN ABANDONED BY CHIANG KAI-SHEK OF HANKOW DEFENCE

Japanese See Direct Result of Invasion of Southern China—Model Army Stabs Deeper Into Province of Kwangtung—Hundreds of Thousands of Civilians Take to Flight

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15 (AP).—Japanese authorities asserted today the invasion of South China had caused Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to abandon his plans for an unreserved defence of Hankow.

They said Chinese forces were massing at Yochow and Changhsa, in Northeastern Hunan Province, along the Canton-Hankow railway. Yochow is about 110 miles southwest of Hankow and Changhsa, provincial capital, eighty-five miles farther south.

General Kai-Shek has been reliably reported in Hongkong to have decided on a strong defence of South China and to have detailed one of his ablest generals, Pai Chungsi, who commanded the Chinese in their April victory at Taierhwang, to direct the South China operations.

LANDING IMMINENT

HONGKONG, Oct. 14 (AP).—A second large-scale landing of Japanese troops on the South China coast, just northwest of this British island outpost in the Far East, appeared imminent tonight while much of Kwangtung Province was engulfed in a maelstrom of destruction and death.

U.S. NOW PLANS MORE DEFENCES

Expect Increased Appropriations in Light of Recent European Crisis

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP).—High officials of the United States Government, with Europe's recent crisis fresh in mind, worked tonight on a four-fold programme to strengthen and modernize national defence methods.

President Roosevelt informed his press conference today that defences were being completely re-examined in the light of world conditions. Later his aides made known they were discussing these four points:

1. Larger appropriations for the army.
2. Larger appropriations for the navy.
3. New techniques, especially mass production of airplanes, now proceeding on a large scale abroad.

HEAVY CONSTRUCTION

4. Methods of stimulating $1,000,000,000 worth of construction work by private utilities, for the purpose of assuring power to vital manufacturing centres in war-time, and for spurring economic recovery immediately.

If the items in the vast programme received final presidential approval they will go before Congress early next year, it was indicated. Meantime, the President is delaying his budget estimates for the coming fiscal year to see how much the drastically revamped defence programme will cost.

President Roosevelt already is considering army and navy proposals to step up military expenditures some 25 per cent beyond the approximately $1,150,000,000 made available for the twelve months beginning July 1, 1938.

SAYS MEDIATION MAY BE POSSIBLE

Spanish Premier Declares His Country Must First Be Purged Of Invaders

BARCELONA, Oct. 14 (CP-Havas)—Premier Juan Negrin, charging Italy with repatriating only its ill and wounded from the Spanish insurgent ranks, admitted tonight that it might be possible to mediate the twenty-seven-month-old civil war if Spain were really purged of "the invaders."

The Government chief, in a world-wide broadcast, pleaded for termination of "the farce of non-intervention," promising a plebiscite which would produce a strong Government that would dedicate itself to "Spain's restoration," once peace was achieved.

TO SCHEDULE GAS PRICES

Fuel Board Studying Basic Consumer Rates and Zoning in Province

While official comment was withheld, the Provincial Fuel Control Board was reliably reported yesterday to have drafted the main terms of its submissions to the Provincial Government as to the regulation of gasoline prices in British Columbia, with executive action about a week off now.

Sources in a position to know predicted the board would recommend the establishment of a basic price to the consumer in the Lower Mainland area somewhat below its present level, and permit the increase of this price in other zones by the addition of transportation and other costs.

While attempt to regulate the spreads between wholesale and retail prices may not be contemplated in the initial order, it is believed that the board will watch the effects of the zoning system, and may in any event ask for the elimination of major spreads said now to occur Up-Island and at inland points, beyond normal distribution charges.

Retailers appearing before the board here this week were assured that their position, between the upped mill-stone of governmental regulation and the nether one in-

CHANGES PLEA IN ESPIONAGE CASE

Former U.S. Army Sergeant Confesses to Spy Activities—Three Others Charged

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP).—An unexpected plea of guilty by a former United States army sergeant accused of espionage provided the Government with an important witness today as it opened its trial of two other men and a woman charged with selling military secrets to a foreign power.

Two minutes after Federal Judge John C. Knox mounted the bench to direct selection of a jury, Guenther Gustav Rumrich, thirty-two, born son of Austrian parents, announced he wished to change his previous plea to guilty.

Others charged are Johanna Hofmann, twenty-six, former beauty shop attendant on the North German Lloyd liner Europa; Otto Hermann Voss, thirty-six, a naturalized German, formerly employed at a Seversky airplane factory on Long Island, and Erich Glaser, twenty-eight, another naturalized German, United States Army private attached to the 18th Reconnaissance squadron.

All Quiet on Victoria's Waterfront

Pleasure launches and trolling craft snuggle side by side in undisturbed security at Enterprise Wharf, in the Inner Harbor, as the sun drops down behind the Sooke Hills. Pending the construction of the projected fishermen's wharf, boats from all parts of the British Columbia coast can be found in a number of places between the Causeway and the Upper Harbor.

FAN EMBERS INTO FLAMES

Strong Winds Increasing Danger Zone of Ontario's Forest Fires

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 14 (CP).—Danger zone of the forest fire menace stretched along the Ontario-Minnesota border line tonight with strong southwest winds fanning the slowly fading embers into flames. For more than 100 miles the bush country was dotted with outbreaks.

While Ontario forest rangers battled to subdue stubborn fires northwest of Fort Frances, which claimed twenty lives in Ontario and Minnesota, Manitoba fighters were summoned to action. United States rangers battled encroaching hazards at International Falls, just across the Rainy River from here.

At Middlebro, a small town in the Southeastern corner of Manitoba, rangers and volunteers ushered 100 women and children from the fire territory. Fires have eaten through farmers' hay stacks near Middlebro.

SPREADS NORTHWARD

Burning bush spread northward. Outbreaks occurred near Lewis, Man., seventy miles east of Winnipeg, with the settlement of Sadowa endangered. Settlers in the Sandilands Forest Reserve, forty-eight miles southeast of Winnipeg, were ready to evacuate their homes.

After a night-long fight, 125 volunteers prevented fires from sweeping through Graham, 100 miles northwest of Port Arthur.

Relief officials cared for twenty-two families at Fort Frances, thirty women and children at Emo, forty miles west, and seventy-five women and children near Stratton, twenty-five miles west.

Provincial Police late today reported fires at Devlin, Kingsford Township, and Clearwater Lake were no longer threatening settlements.

DOCTOR PAYING WITH LIFE FOR MISTAKES

Urge Immediate Investigation of Airport Scheme

Joint Aviation Committee Hears of Federal Offer Of One-Third Total Cost—Annual Interest And Sinking Fund Charges on Loan Are Estimated at $10,000

THE principle of establishing an airport in or near the city of Victoria was approved at a meeting of the joint aviation committee of the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, and it was resolved to recommend to the City Council and the municipal councils of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt that the proposal should be fully investigated and the cost ascertained at the earliest possible moment, with a view to some action being taken forthwith.

This resolution was passed in view of the fact, as reported by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., that the Dominion Government was prepared to advance at least one-third of the total cost of the construction of a commercial airport here. The resolution was moved by Alderman S. H. Okell and seconded by Alderman W. H. Davies.

GOVERNMENT OFFER

Mr. Mayhew told the meeting that in Ottawa recently he had interviewed Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, to ascertain what assistance the Dominion Government would be prepared to give towards the provision of an airport for Victoria. Without hesitation, the minister had assured him that the Government would give substantial assistance—at least one-third of the total cost—and had permitted Mr. Mayhew to make that promise public.

Asked what facilities the Govern-

TO SPEED UP REARMAMENT

King Carol of Rumania Accepts Resignation of War Minister

BUCHAREST, Oct. 14 (AP).—King Carol today accepted resignation of Rumania's War Minister and quickly appointed a successor in what was said to be a move to speed up modernization of the nation's armed forces.

The King, said to be displeased with the slowness of rearmament, appointed General Nicholai Ziuperza to the War Ministry from which General Alexander Argesanu resigned. In addition the monarch was understood to have created a new Ministry for armament and army procurement.

FOR NEW PORTFOLIO

General Josip Jacobizi was reported to have been selected for the new portfolio.

The shakeup came as Rumania was reported to have taken cognizance of the danger of extreme nationalist sentiment sweeping through Middle Europe and which brought about dismemberment of her Little Entente ally, Czechoslovakia.

Rumania has a large number of minority groups—as Czechoslovakia had—including more than 1,000,000 Hungarians, 700,000 Germans, 770,000 Jews, 230,000 Turks, 390,000 Bulgarians, 460,000 Poles, 379,000 Russians and about 50,000 gypsies.

COMPLETES SIX DAYS ON STAND

General LaFleche Accepts Full Responsibility for Bren Gun Contract

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP).—Declaring the Bren gun contract paved the way for British warplane orders and the bringing of other business to Canada, Major-General L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence, today affirmed with pride his responsibility for advancing the agreement to a conclusion.

The deputy minister completed six days on the witness stand at the inquiry into the John Inglis Company contract to produce 7,000 Bren guns for the Canadian Government before Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, of the Supreme Court of Canada. Appointment of the judge as a Royal Commissioner to probe all phases of the contract followed an attack on the contract by Lieutenant-Colonel George Drew, of Toronto, in an article published in MacLean's magazine.

TO BE CROSS-EXAMINED

At adjournment until Monday, General LaFleche had completed his evidence in chief and been cross-examined briefly by Aime Geoffrion, counsel for the Inglis Company. On Monday he will be cross-examined by Colonel Drew, probably at length.

"I took the responsibility and I would do the same again," declared General LaFleche after he had asked permission to make a statement on the approval of the Inglis contract by the inter-departmental committee on the control of profits in armament contracts.

Conservative Leader Selected to Contest Ontario By-Election

Dr. Manion Urges Co-operation Between Railways In Address at London Nominating Convention —Explains Views on Tariff Issue

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 14 (CP).—Co-operative measures between the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway "decided on in consultation with their employees" as a means to economy were advocated tonight by Hon. R. J. Manion, national Conservative leader.

Unification would be no solution to Canada's railway problem, Dr. Manion said in an address to a convention of the London Conservative Association that nominated him as Conservative candidate in the London Federal by-election on November 14. Dr. Manion will seek the seat vacated by the death of Major F. C. Betts last Spring.

The $75,000,000 savings estimate presented to the Senate railway committee (by Sid Edward Beatty, president of the C.P.R.) was not a practical thing today, he said. Many of the savings in that estimate already were being made both by reason of operating economies and reduced traffic.

Solution to the problem of Canada's deficits on the C.N.R. was increased traffic through greater population and through increased

MAN KILLED IN BRITANNIA MINE

Companion Has Narrow Escape When Both Are Buried in Mud and Ore

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP).—Mile (Mike) Kovacevich was recovering in hospital here tonight from injuries suffered yesterday when a fall of mud and ore in a mine at Britannia Beach, twenty miles north of here, buried him and his companion, Martin Alapalo, fatally injuring the latter.

Kovacevich said only one of his arms was left free from the debris in which he was trapped and that he was there about two hours before help arrived. He said it was some time before they succeeded in digging him free.

An official of Britannia Mining & Smelting Company, Ltd., operators of the mine, said an inquest into Alapalo's death revealed that the men had been working without their safety belts attached.

HUNGARY ORDERS MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS AS TENSION MOUNTS

Government Calls 200,000 Men to Colors After Failure to Obtain Satisfaction From Czechoslovakia in Minority Issue—Italy and Germany Are Not in Agreement on Proposals

Czechs Send More Men to Ruthenia and Danube Border

BUDAPEST, Oct. 14 (AP).—The Hungarian Government tonight ordered mobilization of five army classes totaling approximately 200,000 men after failure to obtain from Czechoslovakia satisfaction of Hungary's territorial claims. It was understood the mobilization, to be decreed formally by the War Minister tomorrow, would bring to 420,000 the number of Hungarian troops under arms in the border crisis intensified by breakdown of direct negotiations between the two nations.

Announcement of the mobilization decision was made after a three-and-a-half-hour Cabinet meeting tonight. An earlier communique had said "additional military measures" would be necessary because of Hungarian-Czechoslovak tension.

MASSED ON BORDER

Reinforcement of troops massed in border regions was ordered as Hungary received reports from emissaries sent to Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini seeking support of Hungary's territorial claims against Czechoslovakia.

The Cabinet council tonight studied measures from the two men who went to Munich and to Rome—former Premier Koloman Daranyi, who saw Hitler, and Count Csaky, who visited Mussolini.

Classes called to the colors are to report to their regiments by Monday. Earlier diplomatic circles reported mobilization had been postponed at the request of "great foreign powers," especially Germany.

FEAR SERIOUS CONFLICT

After yesterday's failure to come to terms with Czechoslovakia at the Komarom conference, where negotiation of the Hungarian claims was broken off, the Hungarian Government today sent delegations to Munich and Rome to impress upon the Fuehrer and Il Duce the necessity of their immediate intervention to prevent a serious conflict.

Charging Hungary Using Terrorists For a Revolution

GENEVA, Oct. 14 (AP).—The Czechoslovak delegation to the League of Nations charged today Hungary was attempting to provoke a revolution in Ruthenia through activities of a terroristic organization. It asserted Hungary has sent from 1,500 to 3,000 terrorists into the territory, which Hungary has demanded of Czechoslovakia, and that 305 of them had been arrested at Salamanka alone.

Expedition For Legion Men Ended

LONDON, Oct. 14 (CP-Havas).—Members of the British Legion ready to sail for Czechoslovakia to police the proposed plebiscites in mixed population areas were advised today their services would not be required.

The steamships Naldera and Sunera, waiting off Southend filled with Legionnaires, ready to sail at a moment's notice, are returning to Tilbury. All the men will receive special pay.

Cancellation of the voyage resulted from the decision last night by the International Sudetenland Commission in Berlin that no plebiscites would be held.

KOOTENAY LAKE TO BE RAISED

Power Company Is Granted Permission to Increase Water Storage

NELSON, Oct. 14 (CP).—Following action of the International Joint Commission in granting permission to West Kootenay Power & Light Company to raise the level of Kootenay Lake six feet for water storage and carry out its flood control programme, Lorne Campbell, vice-president and general manager, announced the company will enlarge its No. 2 plant at Upper Bonnington to a developed capacity of 82,000 horse power from the present 32,000.

This will make it the largest of the company's four Kootenay River plants, whose combined developed capacity will now be 260,000 horse power.

Work on the Kootenay River widening at Grohman Rapids will be under way in approximately one month, the intervening time being required for assembling of machinery.

CONDITION OF APPROVAL

The power company received the commission's approval of its scheme on condition the company will pay for excess pumping costs in Idaho drainage districts during the storage period.

Action of the commission was in line with the great bulk of opinion in Idaho and British Columbia, as expressed in four days of hearing at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, and Creston and Nelson.

Acceptance by the company of the principle of reimbursement for extra pumping costs incurred through a higher Winter level in Kootenay Lake removed the principal obstacle to granting of the company's application.

HITLER MAY BE MEDIATOR

Hungary and Czechoslovakia May Accept Proposals to End Dispute

MUNICH, Oct. 14 (AP).—Possibility that Hungary and Czechoslovakia would settle their territorial dispute, aided only by the mediation of Chancellor Hitler, was seen tonight after representatives of the two nations presented their cases to the German Chancellor.

On the Hungarian-Czechoslovak minority dispute, Nazi circles said Germany considered herself so close and friendly to Hungary and so well linked up today with Czechoslovakia that Hitler's mediation was regarded as sufficient.

Hitler conferred in the Fuehrerhaus here first with Frantisek Chvalkovsky, Czechoslovak Foreign Minister, and then with Koloman Daranyi, former Hungarian Premier.

NO DETAILS DISCUSSED

Nazi sources intimated that in none of the conferences were details discussed of the Hungarian demands for large portions of Czechoslovakia peopled by Hungarians, nor the Czechoslovak counter-proposals.

Nazi sources said Hitler dealt only in the broad principles of racial self-determination and their application to the Czechoslovak situation, of economic and political co-operation of nations in the Danubian Basin and of ways and means of binding the Danubian powers closer together.

Hungary yesterday broke off nego-

Mallorca Is The Snag in Negotiations

LONDON, Oct. 14 (CP). — Italian control of the strategic island of Mallorca, off Spain's northwest coast, was reported tonight to be one of the principal snags in the current series of talks between Great Britain and Italy to "settle" the Spanish war and put into effect the long-dormant London-Rome pact.

The Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Rome, who conferred last night and again tonight with Foreign Minister Count Ciano, was understood to have conveyed a restatement of the British view that, unless Italians evacuate Mallorca, Parliament would not consider a Spanish "settlement" reached, and would not approve the granting of belligerent rights.

Faithful Dog Loses Life at End of Long Trip to Old Master

Travels Thousand Miles Across Northern Wilderness to Return to Home in Peace River District—Dies of Exhaustion

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C., Oct. 14 (CP).—Pinch was only a yellow dog, but he traveled a thousand miles of Northern wilderness to find his master. He died as he reached him, his blood-caked muzzle resting on a slab outside his owner's cabin door.

The homely mongrel, his dirty hide packed with faithfulness, belonged to William Cawkin, sixty-year-old prospector of Connelly Creek, about 300 miles north of here.

Last August Cawkin visited an old friend, Daniel Burley, trapper and hunter of Fox Creek in the Alberta Peace River country. Burley wanted Pinch and Cawkin reluctantly parted with him and returned home alone.

One cold night last week with a bitter north wind blowing outside, Cawkin from his bunk heard a scuffling outside. He thought perhaps it was a skunk.

But next morning he found instead his dog, dead, torn and emaciated from a trek over rivers and mountains and through tearing brush and rock.

Cawkins said today the animal must have traveled 1,000 miles to make the distance of 700 miles as the crow flies. He buried Pinch under a wooden cross and carved on it, "Greater Love Hath No Man."

DEGREE GIVEN TO FIRST LADY

Lady Tweedsmuir Honored By University of Toronto —Tribute to Nurses

TORONTO, Oct. 14 (CP).—University of Toronto honored today for the first time a first lady of Canada.

The university conferred an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the Governor-General.

She was one of eleven distinguished Canadians and visitors honored today by the university. The others included Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Malik Sir Firozkhan Noon, High Commissioner for India in Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

A tribute to the nursing profession in Canada was paid with the conferring of an honorary law degree upon Miss Jean Gunn, superintendent of nurses at the Toronto General Hospital and an outstanding figure in Canadian nursing circles.

Cheers echoed through the hall when Lady Tweedsmuir arose after the convocation to thank the university "for one of the greatest moments of my life."

Through her, Lady Tweedsmuir said, the university had honored the many amateur historians, non-professional writers like herself, "an humble laborer in the tangled vineyard of history."

AIR MAIL STAMP FRAUD UNCOVERED

Forgers of Surcharges of Canadian Issues Believed Operating on International Scale

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP).—Detective Eric Hichens, of the Vancouver City Police, today said extensive investigation was being carried on into possible existence of a ring of forgers, operating on an international scale in counterfeiting surcharges on Canadian five-cent air mail stamps.

The stamps, being sold to dealers and collectors, were reported genuine with a forged surcharge printed on them. When the Canadian air mail rate was changed to six cents the five-cent stamps already issued were surcharged, three black lines blocking out the figures and a figure "6" being printed in the centre of the stamp.

Detective Hichens, himself a collector, said seventeen counterfeit stamps were sold to one dealer in Seattle for $250 and that a Vancouver dealer had paid $50 for a block of four.

Four Yachtsmen See Caddy at Different Times Near Nanaimo

Three Other Members of Vancouver Club Report Seeing Strange Object From Beach, but Were Not Convinced It Was Sea Monster

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP).—Four members of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club today told of encountering what they believed to be Vancouver Island's sea monster, Caddy, as they sailed about Flat Tops Islands near Nanaimo on Thanksgiving Day.

One of the four, a Vancouver artist, who wished his name withheld, said he believed he had hooked the serpent while fishing.

He said it was certainly "not any mammal or fish that I have seen," adding that it towed the boat along at about five knots and finally escaped after straightening out a heavy hook. He said, however, he did not see his catch.

OF THE OGOPOGO TYPE

G. A. Roedde saw what he believed to be the same creature near the same spot a short time later.

"It was just some strange sea monster," he said. "Apparently it was of the Ogopogo type.

"The thing was submerging when I saw it. It was just a big bulk of nine feet of body about four feet out of the water. The section I saw could be described as being about the size of an automobile.

"It was a greyish green color and there seemed to be something finlike along its back."

NEXT TO SEE MONSTER

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ramsay, owners of the yacht Armeda, next saw the sea monster.

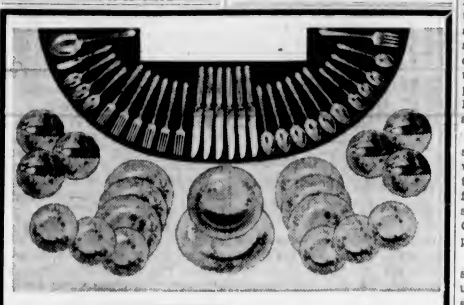

"We were about 150 yards away when we spotted it," Ramsay said. "It looked just like an old barrel with the edges rounded. It just came up on an angle and then submerged, as though sticking its head up to look around. We were too far away to get a good look at it."

Three other members of the Yacht Club, Cedric Dill, D. O. Sudbury and Richard M. Stacey, also saw a strange object in the water while walking on the beach. They were, however, less convinced that it was a sea serpent.

URGE INVESTIGATION OF AIRPORT SCHEME

ment could provide while an airport was being constructed, Mr. Howe had informed Mr. Mayhew that if the Department of National Defence would agree the Patricia Bay Airport could be used temporarily for commercial purposes.

Hon. Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, had concurred in this, Mr. Mayhew continued. The minister stated that the Patricia Bay field could be used if there were definite prospects of an airport being provided by the city. Patricia Bay could not be used permanently, as it would be required for training purposes, and it would not be worth while to establish a regular service, using Patricia Bay, if the provision of a city airport were uncertain, the minister had pointed out.

IMPORTANT LINK

Mr. Mayhew went on to emphasize the importance of an airport here, not only to the City of Victoria and the surrounding municipalities, but also to Canada as a whole. An air service across Canada would not be complete unless Victoria were linked up with it, he declared. From the point of view of Trans-Canada Air Lines, also, the service would not be a success if Victoria were left out.

"Victoria is the only place of its size in Canada, and almost anywhere on the North American continent, that hasn't already got a fairly good air service," Mr. Mayhew stated. Cities and towns all across Canada were busy preparing airports, he said.

Another reason why Victoria should have an airport, he continued, was that there were times when airplanes could not land at Vancouver. On the first trip with the air mail into Vancouver, the plane had had to turn back owing to fog. Victoria was desirable as an emergency landing field.

Mr. Mayhew emphasized the need for expeditious consideration of the situation. The Government, he said, would consider the matter more favorably if it thought that the work would be done this Winter, during the period when the unemployed would have to be taken care of.

PROBLEM OF FINANCE

Remarking that all were anxious to see a good airport provided here, Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the aviation committee, pointed out that the main problem was one of finance. He presumed that 5,000-foot runways, with approaches, would be required, and stated that it would probably cost $125,000 to acquire the necessary land at Gordon Head.

Mr. Mayhew reminded the committee of the Dominion Government's plan of Provincial guarantee of loans to municipalities with the construction of self-liquidating improvements at a low rate of interest, and suggested that the city's proportion of the cost of the airport could be obtained from that source. He considered, also, that because of the benefit the airport would be to the southern end of the Island the municipalities should all assist, though not on a per capita basis, in view of the fact that an air service would chiefly benefit business interests.

In answer to a question, Mayor Andrew McGavin explained that any loan proposal would have to be submitted to the public.

ANNUAL COST $10,000

Presuming that the Dominion Government would provide the necessary buildings and facilities, and that the total cost for land and the construction of runways would be $200,000, R. H. B. Ker said that the amount the city and municipalities would have to find would be about $133,000. Taking advantage of the Dominion Government's loan plan, and allowing 6 per cent for interest and sinking fund, the annual cost would be $8,000. Management of the airport and other items would probably increase the total to $10,000, and the question, therefore, was whether the taxpayers would sanction such a proposal.

Mr. Ker suggested that as portions of the airport would be in Saanich and Oak Bay, those municipalities should make the taxes on the property their contribution.

Mr. Mayhew suggested that J. R. Robertson, district inspector of Western airways for the Department of Transport, should be asked to give an estimate of the total cost of the project.

Duncan MacBride stated that he had been informed that the Dominion Government would take care of the cost of hangars, meteorological station, and other buildings.

PROVINCIAL ASSISTANCE

Alderman Wills suggested the possibility of assistance from the Provincial Government, and W. T. Straith, M.P.P., undertook to press the matter with the Government.

Considerable discussion took place as to the first step that should be taken, and Chamber of Commerce members of the joint committee endeavored to ascertain from Mayor McGavin and the aldermen what action the city would take.

Mayor McGavin pointed out that it would not be possible for him, or for the council, to make any promises until detailed proposals were placed before the council by the committee. The people would have the last say, he reminded the meeting.

Mr. Straith stated that the Provincial Government had no power to make a financial grant for the purpose, but it might be able to assist in the matter of labor camps.

Questioned as to the assistance the Saanich Council might be prepared to give, Reeve William Crouch took the same stand as the mayor—that the municipalities could not be expected to promise support until they knew the details and cost of the proposal, and also what the city was prepared to do.

In the course of the discussion, various motions were put forward, but eventually these were withdrawn in favor of the resolution moved by Alderman Okell, which was carried unanimously.

Seize German Munitions

A considerable quantity of German arms and ammunition were discovered in the Sudeten area before the Hitler army marched in. Among them were hand machine-guns, grenades and revolvers. The grenades were carefully disguised as tinned fruit, and the ammunition was hidden in oil cans of the type used for cars. The fruit tins filled with ammunition were stored in grocery stores. This picture shows some of the seized material being examined in a military camp near Prague.

SAY DEFENCE PLAN IS ABANDONED

Japan's "model" army of invasion stabbed deeper into the province. Hundreds of thousands of civilians were in flight. Japanese air squadrons delivered the heaviest aerial punishment ever seen by the Kwangtung Chinese. Naval guns thundered off the eastern tip of the province.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

Air raid casualties at Waichow alone were estimated at 1,000. That city, eighty miles east of Canton, was reported in flames. Flanking the westward advance of a Japanese force from Bias Bay, where the invaders landed on Wednesday, Waichow was the immediate objective of a northbound column.

The force before Waichow apparently was intending to strike on north and thus cut Kwangtung Province's network of waterways for an assault on the city itself or its communications from the north.

It was reported from Swatow, extreme Eastern Kwangtung, that ten Japanese troop transports, escorted by three destroyers and a cruiser, were en route towards Bias Bay or the Pearl River delta to land another army of invasion.

SUPPLIES ENDANGERED

A small force already was reported to have landed at a point on the delta ten miles northwest of Hongkong. If this were followed by a landing in force, the Canton-Kowloon Railway would be caught in the jaws of a vise closing in from both west and east. The railway is a supply line both for the Chinese forces and for Hongkong.

Warplanes droned over Canton, Kwangtung capital, dumping leaflets demanding surrender of the metropolis by Saturday at the threat of "complete and thorough bombing." There started a mass exodus of an estimated 400,000 women and children from the sprawling river city.

CHINESE FALL BACK

Although reinforced by troops from the interior, including thousands from Kwangsi, a neighboring province, the Kwangtung provincial army fell back mile after mile from the Bias Bay sector under the pressure of Japan's expeditionary force.

Canton military authorities said the "real" defence had not started.

"Why should we fight the Japanese on their chosen battlefields?" they asked. "Wait and see what we can do."

A Canadian Airways plane was summoned by radio to bring the injured man 125 miles to Vancouver after the accident at the Merrill, Ring & Wilson logging camp. No details of the accident were available.

Longshoremen Hosts To Sports Group at Banquet-Dance Here

Baseball and Tug-of-War Teams Are Guests at Dinner at Headquarters on Dallas Road—Mayor McGavin Gives Short Address

MEMBERS of the Victoria Longshoremen's Association, their wives and friends, gathered at headquarters on Dallas Road last night to honor their two baseball teams and a tug-of-war team which carried the banner of the V.L.A. in sporting activities during the past season. The occasion was a banquet, followed by a short musical programme and a dance.

Approximately 175 persons attended the function, at which Mayor Andrew McGavin; E. A. Condon, editor of Labor Truth, Vancouver, and L. R. Kirkham, president of the North Vancouver Longshoremen's Association, were the guests of honor.

MAYOR SPEAKS

Capt. W. M. Crawford, president of the Empire Stevedoring Company, was the chairman and introduced the guests.

Mayor McGavin said that in any seaport town the waterfront workers were among the most important in the community. He complimented the association on the happy relations existing between employers and employees, and hoped these would continue for all time. He noted the great change that had taken place in the past few years along the waterfront and mentioned the leasing of the grain elevator.

LEAVE OF ELEVATOR

"I have been assured," said the Mayor, "that the elevator will not be used solely for storage purposes as in the past, but that there will be receipts and shipments in and out of the elevator during the season, which should give employment to a number of men. The opening of the elevator will mean much to the city and to the waterfront workers."

Alexander G. McKeachie proposed the toast to the teams, which was musically honored, the assembly singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr. McKeachie referred to the athletic activities of the association and hoped the teams would measure up to the standard during the coming seasons.

James Leckie extended a welcome to the guests, which was replied to by Mr. Condon, Vancouver, after which Lawrence Orchin entertained with a number of solos. A dance concluded the evening's festivities.

GERMAN PEOPLE CRAVE LIBERTY

Most Rev. Michael James O'Doherty, Archbishop of Manila and Primate of the Philippines, was a passenger aboard the Ss. Empress of Japan sailing last evening for home. Archbishop O'Doherty, who is returning to Manila after an absence of six months, during which he attended the Eucharistic Congress at Budapest, was accompanied to Victoria by his very great friend, William C. Bitting, Jr., Asheville, North Carolina.

Born in Dublin, Archbishop O'Doherty holds spiritual jurisdiction over 12,000,000 communicants in the Philippine Islands, where he has been stationed for the last thirty years. The Archdiocese of Manila is possessed of considerable world wealth, owning three banks, one of the largest sugar "centrals," 7,000 chartered islands, the largest subdivision in Manila, fifty-one pieces of income-bearing property and millions of square metres throughout the Philippine Islands.

Archbishop O'Doherty stated that he had spent some time in both Germany and Italy, preached many times in England and Ireland, and was now going back to his people to tell them how much better their lot is than that of the people of Germany, for instance. In talking with a great many German people, he found "they had no stomach for what Hitler is doing and are craving for some liberty of conscience and thought."

Spending some time in Rome, the Archbishop stated that he had been received by His Holiness Pope Pius XI on several occasions. He found the Pontiff to be in excellent health, he said, and altogether different from what he had been led to believe before meeting him.

Duke of Kent Opens Fine Canadian Art Display in London

Largest Exhibition Ever Held Outside of the Dominion Wins High Praise—To Be Open for Two Months

LONDON, Oct. 14 (CP-Havas).—The largest exhibition of Canadian art ever held outside the Dominion was formally inaugurated today at the Tate Galleries by the Duke of Kent. Viewing the impressive collections of paintings, sculptures and wood carvings representing a century of Canadian art, the Duke observed it was the first time Britons on this side of the Atlantic had had the opportunity of seeing so representative an exhibition of Canadian art.

"The pictures date from the end of the eighteenth century," the Duke said, "and people can see for themselves a sufficiently representative collection of pictures to be able to appreciate the versatility and vigor of Canadian art.

"They can now understand the deep significance of Canada's contribution to the world of painting. There is no such thing as one Canadian school of painting. There are in Canada as elsewhere many groups of artists working independently, and sometimes with different ideas, and out of that has sprung the quality which is evident in all the greater works coming from that country.

DEFINITELY INDIVIDUAL

"It is as definitely individual and characteristic as it is Canadian. It comes from a clear and incisive method of applying paint to a conception which is largely due to a very clear atmosphere and the unusually vivid light of the country."

Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, in an address, said in Canada there is a great and growing interest in the arts, a development which could be attributed chiefly to modern education.

"The art room of today is no longer a sort of penitential institution," Mr. Massey said, "but a definitely popular place."

The exhibition is arranged in four galleries. There are paintings by one of the most romantic figures in the artistic world, Tom Thomson, who for eight months every year lived alone in the wilds painting the Canadian Northlands and who was known as one of the best guides and fishermen in the district. He was drowned in 1917.

OTHER ARTISTS INCLUDED

There are also works by Paul Kane, who died in 1871 after winning a reputation as an explorer, crossing Canada by canoe, horse and foot.

Also shown are works by David B. Milne, who served as official artist for Canadian war memorials and now lives in a cabin on Georgian Bay. The oldest exhibits are wood carvings from Quebec of the seventeenth century.

There are more than 300 items in the exhibition. It will remain open for two months and then possibly go on a tour of Manchester, Birmingham, Sheffield and Liverpool.

For the purposes of figuring costs of transportation and distribution, the province will be divided into zones, with consumer prices in relation to the basic Vancouver rate. So far as could be ascertained, however, no final decision has yet been taken on the main point, the amount of the initial reduction to be ordered.

Members of the Government and of the board declined comment, pending final agreement upon what the first order will entail. The board was unofficially reported making an investigation into price spreads at present obtaining in the remoter areas of the province.

"Certainly not!" she snapped. "He doesn't nibble a bit. Not that he won't take a drop now and then with his meals, if the rest do. But that's as far as he goes."

ATLAS THEATRE In the tangled lives of four inhabitants of a remote Alaskan fishing village is mirrored the heroic struggle for existence in America's last frontier region in "Spawn of the North," which will show for the last times today at the Atlas Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Marie Antoinette," at the Capitol Theatre, is a triumph of the motion picture art, magnificent in its pageantry, with eye-filling beauty of brilliant costume and setting, flawlessly cast with such famed film names as Norma Shearer, Tyrone Power, John Barrymore, Anita Louise, Joseph Schildkraut, Gladys George and scores of others.

COLUMBIA THEATRE When Smiley Burnette, the featured comedian in the Gene Autry starring picture, "Gold Mine in the Sky," which will close today at the Columbia Theatre, first came to Hollywood he had to thumb-ride his way from one studio to another in search of a job.

DOMINION THEATRE "Hold That Co-Ed," now at the Dominion Theatre, with John Barrymore, George Murphy, Marjorie Weaver, Joan Davis and Jack Haley featured, is a hilarious, neatly contrived, topical tie-up between politics and football. Barrymore is a co-ed-chasing, budget bouncing governor who sponsors a $10,000,000 college football development as a sensational vote-getting device.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Rex (R) vs. John and William Wasylenchuck (A)—At the close of the argument yesterday, the Court of Appeal unanimously dismissed this appeal.

The accused had been convicted of holding up the employees of the Royal Bank at Langley, B.C., on January 24, 1938, and stealing $3,000. They appealed from the conviction, claiming the weakness of the Crown's case against them had not been properly placed before the jury by the trial judge.

The Court of Appeal held the judge's charge had been fair and adequate.

D. J. McAlpine, for the appellants. A. S. Duncan for the Crown respondent.

Wilson Lumber Co., Ltd. (A) vs. E. & N. Railway (R)—This is an appeal by the plaintiff from a judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson dismissing its action for specific performance of an agreement.

It is alleged that the E. & N. Railway Co. in 1929 agreed to sell Block 255, Newcastle District, to the Qualicum Sawmill Co., Ltd., for $28,876.75. In July, 1930, an order was made by His Honor Judge Barker for the sale of certain of that company's assets including said block to the appellant to satisfy Mechanic's Lien claims. The Qualicum Sawmill Co. later went into bankruptcy and a transfer was obtained by the appellant of the lands in question from the trustee in bankruptcy. When the balance owing under the agreement was paid off, the railway company gave a deed to J. C. Wilson personally, as it claimed it had been given notice of an assignment to him from the Qualicum Sawmill Co., Ltd. The company brought action to compel delivery of a deed direct to it.

F. S. Cunliffe for the appellant. J. E. McMullen, K.C., for the respondent.

TALKS ON RECENT CRISIS IN EUROPE

Captain Elmer Philpott Addresses Qualicum District Canadian Club at Parksville

QUALICUM BEACH, Oct. 14.—Captain Elmer Philpott, M.C., Great War veteran, journalist, and speaker on international affairs, was the speaker at the Qualicum District Canadian Club's first meeting this season, held at the Island Hall, Parksville, on Wednesday evening, his topic being "The International Crisis." Events had moved rapidly in the last month, he said, but he saw nothing in them to change the fundamental picture. Up to 1930 it seemed that real progress was being made, but in recent years the underlying economic factor has broken down the old co-operation between nations and caused the rise of the dictators.

Decisive action by the world against Italy in 1935 might have altered the whole course of history, but the collapse of collective action led to the so-called policy of appeasement, otherwise "throwing them to the wolves." It was Canada, he recalled, which started the procession out of the League of Nations at that time by repudiating Dr. Riddell's action at Geneva.

Much may be said for and against the Munich accord, the speaker said, but if Hitler disregards his recent pledge to make no further territorial demands in Europe, his probable course of action may be judged from his book, "Mein Kampf," which he has followed closely up to the present. If we believe in freedom, the speaker said, the nations must work and, if necessary, fight for a system of international law and order, uniting in some collective scheme backed by an overwhelming force capable of putting down aggression.

Captain Philpott was introduced by R. I. Knight, president of the club, and many questions were asked after his address.

HOWARD ESTES FOUND GUILTY

Ordered to Pay $25 on Charge of Assaulting Biru, East Indian

Convicted of a charge of assaulting and causing actual bodily harm to Biru, East Indian, Howard Estes, colored, was sentenced by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in the city police court yesterday morning to pay a fine of $25 and $2.50 interpreter's fee, or in default five days in jail.

Called to the stand by Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, Biru testified that he employed Edward Minnie to shingle his dwelling at 757 Market Street. Estes came to help Minnie voluntarily, and was asked by Biru to alter the spacing of the shingles.

A few minutes later Estes climbed down from the roof, took off his shirt and said to Biru, "Come on and fight." He stuck Biru in the mouth with his right fist and delivered a second blow when the East Indian staggered to his feet. Five teeth were loosened. Then Biru held the accused by the neck and struck him on the head in self-defence, he told the court.

URGED TO FIGHT

Hardial Singh corroborated Biru's statement of the assault. He said a woman named Woods shouted to Estes after Biru asked him to alter the shingle spacing: "Go ahead and hit him with a hammer. Why don't you come down? Are you scared?"

Edward Minnie, the shingler, admitted that Biru told Estes to get off the roof when he saw his work was not satisfactory. Estes volunteered to help him finish the job before rain fell. Minnie did not hear the woman's voice.

Taking the witness stand in his own behalf, Estes swore that Minnie asked him to help finish the job on October 1 so he could do some shopping. He admitted a row of shingles was crooked, and Biru told him to get off the roof. He heard the woman call: "Put the shingles on right and get through."

Estes declared that he left the roof and when he reached the ground, Biru hit him on the nose and grabbed him by the neck. He struck back only in self-defence.

"I have no doubt you came down from the roof angry and started to fight, thus injuring Biru," Magistrate Hall commented.

REVISION COURT CONCLUDES WORK

Total Reduction of $7,420 Made on Improvements—No Cut in Land Values

No reductions were made on the assessment of land, it was revealed yesterday morning when the court of revision on the assessment roll for 1939 considered the last of thirty-eight appeals.

Members of the court are Mayor Andrew McGavin, Aldermen W. Lloyd Morgan, Alex Peden, S. H. Okell and John A. Worthington.

During three court sessions, a total reduction of $7,420 was made in improvements on land.

For taxation purposes, the assessment roll stands at $18,018,013 for land, with improvements valued at $27,600,000.

George A. Okell, city assessor and collector, pointed out a general reduction of $261,894 had been made on land, and $869,790 on improvements this year.

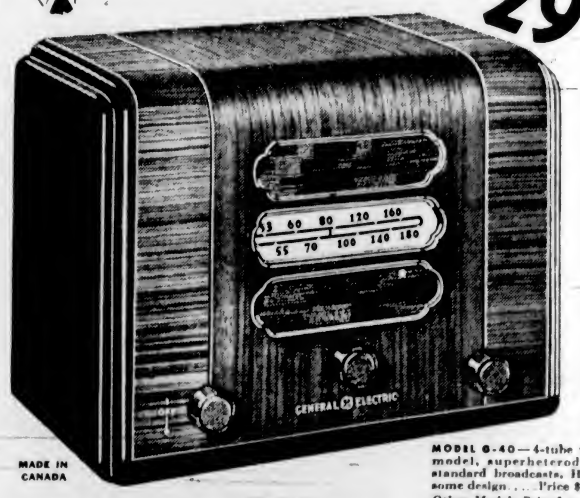

Most of the land reduction was due to ordinary reversions. Improvements were reduced approximately 5 per cent to allow for general depreciation.

"NATIONAL" BROADCASTING

It was hoped that when radio was socialized in Canada a determined and concerted effort would be put forth to make it a medium of national expression; to bring East to West; to give voice to the art and literature of the country, and to provide programmes both entertaining and instructive. This plan, if ever it was entertained, is only being accomplished in a half-baked way. A part of national broadcasting, too, it was hoped would be the provision of selected British programmes and programmes from other parts of the Empire so that the C.B.C., like the B.B.C., would be Imperial in its scope. The British programmes which gave an indication of being developed are becoming notably fewer, while at the same time American programmes are increasing on the "curriculum" of the C.B.C. That organization wants American advertising because of the monetary benefits that accrue. At the time radio socialization was being discussed in Parliament one of the major arguments adduced in its favor was that advertising, which under private ownership so largely dominated the situation, would no longer be a source of annoyance.

No one can claim that national broadcasting as undertaken in this country is approved by a majority of the people. That majority still listens in the main to American stations. That is the proof that the C.B.C. is not fulfilling the mission it set out to accomplish. The question to which the answer is required is whether the Government is responsible for this, or those directly in control of the fortunes of the broadcasting system. There is a board of directors, or governors, of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, but it seldom meets, and it is doubtful in the extreme if its members know what the people want. Some of the programmes of the C.B.C. could be dropped because of their futility or banality. There is too much duplication of American programmes which can be heard over American stations, and often in cases where the reception is much better than over the Canadian system. The people of this country, ever since the radio was introduced, have been deluged with American programmes, American propaganda, American advertising, and irritated by the hectic utterances of so many American announcers. It was to provide something in the nature of an antidote to all this that radio broadcasting was nationalized in the Dominion. As it is being managed, it is developing as little more than an appendage of the broadcasting systems of the United States. The matter should be aired in Parliament, as the board of directors, or governors, of the C.B.C. appears to be blind to what is happening.

GERMAN OPINION OF CRISIS

Mr. Neville Chamberlain's enemies continue to make accusations of surrender and betrayal as an outcome of his participation in the Munich settlement. Those who rejoice because the world was saved from being bathed in bloodshed take an entirely different viewpoint, and among them are the German people. Mr. H. Powys Greenwood, who returned from Germany on the eve of the crisis, says that when there he endeavored to get into touch with as many classes and sections of opinion as possible. He found the vast majority of the German people viewing the situation in the same light. They were satisfied that the right of self-determination should have been secured for the Sudetens. They did not look upon Great Britain and France as having capitulated to an ultimatum. There was no sense of triumph, but rather one of overmastering relief that, as Mr. Greenwood puts it, "when it really came to the point Great Britain and France could not take the field against their own principles and bring about a general catastrophe."

Mr. Greenwood says that to the ordinary man in Germany, Mr. Chamberlain's gesture "was not one of surrender or humiliation, but the bold move of a generous gentleman and lover of peace who wished to cut the Gordian knot. Nothing could have appealed more to a people still suffering so deeply from the wounds of defeat. At one stroke the bitterness which has been growing under the surface, not merely during the last few months, but during the last few years, seemed to give place to the old yearning for a better understanding with Great Britain, which has been such a feature of post-war Germany." In effect the German people want peace. To secure it they want a genuine revision of the Versailles grievances, and they want an Anglo-German understanding. These conclusions, in the estimation of the vast majority of mankind, will be better than any military adventure with its wake of woe.

FLAT FEET

It is a question if it is the make of the shoe worn or the character of the exercise taken that is most responsible for the prevalence of flat feet. The Lancet has been discussing the subject, pointing to the commonness of the "splaying of the foot, and drooping of the longitudinal arch." Now that larger numbers are engaging in military service the disabilities of imperfect feet are becoming more noticeable, since those with them cannot stand up to long marches. The Lancet says that "a census of recent recruits for the Hitler-Jugend has revealed the fact that more than 70 per cent of them, boys and girls alike, show evidence of foot strain and are in process of developing deformities of the feet."

The Lancet sees the causes of these deformities as faulty footwear and lack of development of the muscles of the foot. It quotes an authority on the essential features of a satisfactory shoe. It must grip the heel firmly; it must have a bar or tie which fits over and grips the instep. The heel should not be higher than one and one-half inches, and the fore part, or vamp, should be a little more anatomically correct than the foot, allowing room for the toes to move about. "Fitted with such a shoe," says The Lancet, "the joints of the foot are allowed active movement in stepping forward, the transverse arch can flatten and reform normally with weight-bearing, and functional activity of the muscles is preserved."

As well as certain reforms that seem to be necessary in the shoe industry there is the question of the right kind of exercise. The Lancet quotes Dr. Maerz, of Germany, as advocating skipping for five to ten-minute periods daily, either barefoot or in "gym" shoes, and running barefoot on grass or sports grounds. He wants such exercises made a regular part of the school curriculum. It seems that if ill-fitting shoes must be worn, some counteracting influence must be adopted. "Badly-fitting shoes," says The Lancet, "which do not grip the heel and instep, circulatory changes followed by fatigue of poorly-exercised muscles and ligaments—these combine to throw a strain on a part of the foot ill-adapted passively to bear the body-weight."

FRANCE'S GENERALISSIMO

Had war developed as a result of the Sudeten crisis, the supreme command of the armies of Great Britain and France would have been entrusted to Marie Gustave Gamelin, who is now Commander of all the French forces on land, sea and in the air. He was a Colonel of the 2nd Brigade of the Chasseurs a Pied at the Somme, and so rapid was his advance in rank that he was made Joffre's Chief of Staff when the Marshal was given the supreme command of the French armies in 1915. A year before the end of the Great War he was given command of the 9th Division, and was in charge of the counter-offensive of the French Fifth Army in July, 1918. In 1919 he was appointed Chief of the French Military Mission to Brazil; in 1925 sent to Syria, where he relieved the besieged garrisons in Djebel Druse; in 1926 he was Commander of all troops in Syria; in 1931, Chief of the General Staff. This year he attained the highest military command in France, that of Generalissimo.

He is described by the Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail as a soldier with imagination. He talks little and travels much. He has visited nearly every country in Europe; seen their military manoeuvres; listened to everything told him, and said hardly anything. He has frequently been in England consulting with British generals, and no doubt arranging for the co-operation of the armies in an emergency. He mixes himself in no way with politics, and is reputed to know all there is to be known about modern warfare.

British Columbia's Cabinet Ministers, who recently visited Ottawa on Government business, say they were unable to accomplish much on account of the political preoccupation at the capital on the subject of the Sudeten crisis. This does not seem to make sense. Ottawa's Cabinet Ministers had nothing to do with the crisis, if Mr. Mackenzie King is to be believed, because they could do nothing until instructed by Parliament as to what they were to do, and Parliament was not in session.

INLAND

By strange and magic ways the sea creeps in;
Where no salt creeks or inlets ever reach,
Her deep and secret mysteries begin
And there is heard her dark unhappy speech,

Here in this inland meadow is a tree
That tugs at anchor in the sultry gale,
Twists upon roots, demanding to be free,
Spreads to the wind a green, full-bellied sail.

A granite outcrop, never splashed by surf,
Wears barnacles upon its sunny side;
Lifts its proud head from richly-flowered turf
To meet the thunder of a phantom tide.

And far, oh far from the tumultuous sound
Of waves that climb, slip back, then tumble over,
Bright crests of juniper mount pasture ground,
Break into flying spray of tall white clover.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Skyways, and what will they mean to you? Give peace, and they can teach you much. A whole new language, a whole new literature, a brand new world; a new perspective, a fourth dimension, the ability to see things whole; the world of the land, the world of the sea, the world of the air; the universe as no one before has seen it; all these, and more, will you see.

They are not earth-pictures, that you will see from the sky. Pushing up from the ground, the earth and everything on it falls away from you. Gone is man, with his puny works and his little spites. His towns shrink to small drab circles of loosely-piled bricks, his boats to matchsticks, his roads to cracks in a dusty plate, his trains to crawling, many-sectioned beetles, himself to insignificance.

Nature's plan spreads out before your wondering eyes. Fields merge into flat green delta lands, rolling prairies and tree-clad valleys. Mountain peaks become snow-capped vertebrae in the backbone of a land. The bay recedes, and the wash of an ocean laves the shore of a continent, with its myriad spume-flecked inlets. Rivers cease to be vistas of bridges and a few miles of muddy water, and cross the face of the land clearly for a thousand miles, from hilltop down to seashore. Forests fold like a great soft green blanket over the face of a western land. This is the earth as the Master Pilot made it, not as man despoiled it.

Higher still, and the mountain backbones are articulated into the great body of a continent. The ground, from being round, then flat, has become a great brown saucer, rising at its edges, so that the horizon is a perfect circle, above which the clouds in layer upon layer have stratified the sky in opalescent colors. Now you can see land and water, and where their edges meet, but little more down there on the ground.

The ocean is a brightly silvered mirror; with little inshore waves painted stillborn on its surface; with surf-lashed reefs a wreath of ostrich plumes set out to dry under the sun; with river mouths as chalky, spreading patches, as if the gods mixed milk with water in an effort to convert the sea. Great ships of commerce look like cedar splinters, drifting slowly in a birdbath. Far out to sea the rollers look like furrowed ground, set in a crinkled, changeless pattern.

Up higher still, and now you're in the clouds. You've left the earth, and all it holds, behind. A great white saucer lies below your 'plane. There is no earth, no land, no sea; but only sky, that wraps you round in puffy cottonwool, receding at your touch, closing in behind you, while overhead the great blue vault of heaven, deeper and bluer than you've ever know before, looks down in wonder at your mortal daring. Yet higher, and the layers of clouds are all beneath, like stacks of saucers piled upon some giant's pantry shelf. You're in the Skyways!

Yes, you're in the Skyways. You're flying in the topmost saucer's very centre, while at its giant rim the blue of heaven makes with the topmost layer of clouds a new horizon; changing as you change, moving as you move, but seeming motionless for all that, while yet you cross a continent below. Sky- mountains, larger by a thousandfold than storm-swept rocks below, rear high their rolling, rounded heads; split into cavernous valleys, down which the sunbeams race like golden chariots; and crimson with the fading light of day.

The sun goes down, sending its aerial cavalry in multi-colored capes charging across the sky. The clouds below tint salmon pink, and rose; take fire at their edges, and sparkle with the flash of many jewels; before they soften, draw together in a pearl, then leaden grey. The sun has gone to bed. The stars flash out, as if some Olympian lamplighter had gone aloft to hang them out, like winking lanterns, at their age-old stations.

Far down below, and hidden by the clouds, the moon breaks through the curving arc of land, and sails up into the heavens. She tests the clouds with upshot silver shafts, turning the saucer's rim to gleaming mica; sails majestically across an open valley in the sky; to hide a while behind a billowing, rolling range, which straightway melts, and leaves the sky and all its holds captive to her nightly magic.

Higher still, in time you'll go; beyond the range of night and day; up into the stratosphere, where all is night, or seemingly remote from day as we have known it. Imagination stumbles at what you then may see. Far down below, the layers of clouds will look perhaps like unto the rings of Saturn, turned on their backs, and mightily enlarged. The Earth will shine with luminosity, diffused through atmosphere, reflecting still the lamps of day and night.

The stars will be but little closer, yet they will be clear as crystal, colored, scintillating in the cold, clear paths of heaven. You may even see the curvature of this, your planet, dimly molded in a long and shallow arc. The ground, perhaps, ten miles straight down below you, or would it be up; down or up mean little to the swirling spheres of heaven.

Ten miles aloft, or two, what matters it? To leave this earth is something. To watch the land merge with the sea, and both become a minor part of something vaster yet, that is to live, indeed. And some day, given peace, you'll live like that! Just think of it, a whole new language, a whole new literature, and a whole new world to call your own. A brand new ocean in the air, with skyways leading from every point to every other point about the surface of your planet. Why, men could live as gods with that. Something vast and timeless waits for man, when he has learned to leave the earth behind; as learn, some day, he will.

Glancing Over Sport

Today we start the long Winter grind in the athletic world. At the Athletic Park the Saturday League stages its opening soccer game with the Garrison and Saanich Thistles all set to go. Out at Macdonald Park the ruggers swing into action with the executive holding a double-header for the fans in the intermediate division. At the High gym the first inter-city basketball game will bring together the Dominoes and the University of British Columbia . . . Jockey Johnny Longden, the Prairie hardboot, has ridden 178 winners so far this year and is far in front of his nearest rival in the race for the American championship . . . It looks as if Babe Ruth is through with baseball for good. When the Dodgers signed up Leo Durocher as their new manager and also named two coaches for next season the Babe's name was not included . . . Paul Rowe, Victoria boy with the Calgary Bronks, is going great guns down on the Prairies in the Canadian football circuit. According to the Calgary papers the local boy is one of the best prospects to hit the Prairies for some time. His name appears in the summary every game and the reason why it's there is because Paul is crashing through the opposition for touchdowns.—J.D.

A Break for Canadians, Please!

It is gratifying, if not strange, to see that a major Canadian company has taken up broadcasting space five nights a week on the C.B.C. It is really disappointing, however, when one looks over the talent provided—we do not mean the performers are artists of an inferior calibre, far from it—but as far as we can gather every single one of them has been recruited from the talent roster of the National Broadcasting Company. A fine advertisement for Canadian material. If Canada cannot produce artists capable of appearing on a coast-to-coast network, then this nation should not waste the people's money on a national hook-up.—W.I.F.

Likes His Victuals

Our tobacconist friend claims wives should adopt this motto: "A menu a day keeps the brute at bay." . . . Jim, the genial Empress barber, is a devotee of baseball. He told us a good baseball game permits expression of opinion that cannot be uttered at home or the shop . . . Some optimistic soul invented an electrical device which stimulates ocean waves while one soaks in the family bath tub. A few more of those dizzy inventions and one will be able to enjoy all the discomforts of travel without leaving home . . . Salesman Horace is of the opinion that foreign correspondents use not typewriters but "tripe-writers" . . . Broad Street Bertie often furrows his brow with worry. We heard him remark that when a doctor tells a person worry will keep him from getting well, it generally means the person has some ailment that would make anybody worry.—G.B.

Snobbery

Turning over the pages of a very old book the other day, we came across a delightful example of snobbishness on the part of a man now long dead. The book contained a list of several hundred names in alphabetical order, none of the owners of which was given any form of title. There were Brown, A. J.; Jones, Thomas; Smith, R. F.; Wright, Amelia, and so on down the list. But there was one glaring exception. In the middle of one of the columns of names there appeared "M——, Mr. Edward." That was the name of the author of the book.—R.M.

Sir,—I should be very grateful if you would grant me space in your paper to draw the attention of the public to the splendid work of Miss Constance Gilmour. I think this young playwright should receive all encouragement. Her dialect plays are splendid comedy with speech and settings absolutely true to life.

In these days of so much unrest I am quite sure the public will enjoy and appreciate a good laugh. Hoping Miss Gilmour and her cast in "P.W.E." play to a packed house at the Empire Theatre on Friday, October 14.

CHINESE AMBULANCE FUND

Sir,—On behalf of the committee of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Friends of the Chinese People, I should like to take this opportunity of thanking the public of Victoria and district for their most generous response to our tag day. The fact that it was one of the best tag days in the city's history indicates the great interest and sympathy of our citizens toward the suffering people of China and a tribute to their heroism in their fight for democracy against aggression. Special thanks are due to Mrs. H. M. Hall, the tag day convener, and to the ladies who so faithfully tagged. Our Chinese friends took a prominent part in the campaign. Thirty Chinese ladies were in the forefront of the tagging and did splendid service. To these and to Mr. Yuen Jong, who donated a truck load of vegetables, and to Mr. Chew Dang, who sold them for the good of the cause, we proffer our thanks. This effort realized the splendid sum of $115.67, which added to the amount collected by the tag amounts to $978.05. The ambulance is going to be ordered immediately, but we would like to remind our citizens that there is still a tremendous need for surgical supplies and money to care for the wounded soldiers and civilians as well as for the thousands of orphans and refugees. Further contributions will be gratefully received.

Honorary Treasurer.

THE HUNGRY SHEEP

Sir,—Your editorial in Sunday's Colonist causes one to think. It's language is that of the teacher, rather than of the preacher. There is no doubt that an analytic teaching of Christianity is to be preferred to the preaching of a synthetic theology. The teacher teaches fact in few words. The preacher on the other hand, carried away by his own enthusiasm, or inspiration, very often mixes supposition and fact in one elocutionary mulligan which leaves "confusion worse confounded" in the minds of his hearers.

Can we blame the churches for their inability to hold congregations? Protestantism and Catholicism alike verge towards the acquisition of power or influence in the land, rather than toward the spreading of Christian knowledge.

Again it might be added that any clergyman who understands and teaches pure Christianity receives short shrift at the hands of his own congregation. So where do we get off at? D. S. MORRISON,

R.M.D. 3, Victoria, B.C., October 10, 1938.

COMMUNITY CHEST

Sir,—It is quite apparent to all who have taken an active part in the support and maintenance of any of the several charitable and philanthropic societies operating in Greater Victoria, that the Community Chest of Greater Victoria won its spurs during the past year, and that the coming drive merits the whole-hearted support of everyone.

Questions have been asked of us, as representatives of the Canadian Red Cross Society, regarding the Chest and its beneficiaries. For the benefit of those prospective contributors who have some doubts regarding these things, we think that the following facts are worthy of emphasis:

(1) None of the social agencies and organizations represented by the Community Chest will hold a tag day or otherwise canvass the public for funds in any way.
(2) The budgets of all associations are audited, checked and double-checked.
(3) Newspaper space is generously donated and all expenses connected with rallies of workers are met by the workers themselves.
(4) The overhead operating cost of the Victoria Community Chest (less than 5 per cent in 1938) is lower than that of any similar organization on the whole continent.

Contributors to the Chest who wish membership in the Red Cross Society have only to mention this when making their donation and their names will be sent to us.

We ask your generous support for this common-sense plan.

J. G. AUSTIN,
President.

R. S. WORSLEY,
Hon. Secretary-Treasurer.

TRANSPORTATION FRANCHISE

Sir,—The report published and signed by the Reeve of Esquimalt would appear to be the only wise and sane conclusion to settle this debatable question. He clearly states the decision of the B.C. Electric's fair offer to carry on for two, three, or even five years to give during this period a better conditioned system and, one of the most important statements, no advance in fares.

Considering the rapid growth of the outside municipalities and building activities compared to the decline in the city, should show clearly that this must be, if it is to be a success, a greater Victoria transportation scheme, hence the definite reason for a public utilities commission created by the Provincial Government. Transportation is not a question to be settled by a city council in itself. It affects every citizen, man, woman and child.

The voters' list comprises some 12,000 names. At the last election about 50 per cent voted, comprising property owners, licence owners and householders. Surely the many thousands of citizens not included should have a voice in this question that affects their "pocket" safety and the many other privileges that they may consider given to them by a tramway system.

The traveling public can rest assured that they will not be able to ride from Esquimalt to the Uplands, Oak Bay and other points for six cents if a change is made.

The taxpayer can rest assured that no other system will pay so much in taxes and receive the benefits from the many sources collected from the present B.C. Electric Company.

Victoria wants industries; industries mean a payroll; yet, by doing away with the street railway, we lose one of our largest payrolls and these men are paid the highest salaries and have privileges far above what the bus lines now pay, or what they would be likely to pay; (note this) unless the bus lines charged the public for transportation a higher fare.

Again, the power (electric) is generated from our watersheds, for which we received a revenue, and although the water is used by the B.C. Electric we get this water for consumption free and the consumers pay again.

The suggestion of Reeve Lockley is a wise one. I quote: "Personally, I feel it would be wise to leave over the whole matter for a stated period so as to give ample time for a full and more neutral investigation by a public utilities committee."

The offer of the B.C. Electric should be accepted, thus giving time to go fully into the question, and our public bodies and the general public receive the consideration due to them on this debatable question which not only affects the present but the future progress of this city and surrounding municipalities.

Many changes may yet be made in transportation during the next five years, and considering the present "financial" position of the city we can well put off any material change for this short period.

We have had too many schemes forced upon us in the past. Surely we should now have become wise and more careful of any "snap" judgments that may land us further in difficulties.

Common sense and reason should prevail in connection with this.

JOHN DAY.

TRAFALGAR DAY

Sir,—Friday the 21st of this month will be the 132nd anniversary of the epoch-making victory over a European dictator by Vice-Admiral Lord Nelson, off Cape Trafalgar in 1805. The shadow of that terrible weapon, the blockade, was thus definitely lifted from the shipping trade of Great Britain, before Christmas of 1805.

The society, which for many years has faithfully attended to the hoisting of the famous signal to the masthead of the British Columbia Government flagstaff near the Cenotaph, has decided to omit the ceremony again this year. The society claims that the citizens are not sufficiently interested in this Empire celebration to support the same with their presence in large numbers.

On behalf of the Society for Nautical Research, which by permission of the Admiralty restored H.M.S. Victory to her condition before Trafalgar, I appeal to all householders to hoist or display the British or Canadian ensigns or flag on Friday, the 21st.

A Trafalgar exhibit will be seen in the window of the Victoria Book & Stationery Company at 1002 Government Street. It is hoped that all private schools will stage suitable celebrations.

F. V. LONGSTAFF,
Major (Retired).

Anchor Good as Life Preserver

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 14 (AP).—It is proper procedure to toss an anchor to the person drowning in Great Salt Lake, says Prof. Thomas C. Adams, of University of Utah. A fifteen-pound weight is about right to hold a distressed bather's feet down in the highly buoyant water, he discovered in tests conducted by Boy Scouts. A life preserver tips a swimmer's face down.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of October 15, 1888)

H.M.S. Caroline Leaves for England—H.M.S. Caroline, Captain Sir William Wiseman, Bart., left Esquimalt yesterday afternoon for Honolulu. From there she will proceed to Hongkong and thence to England by way of the Cape of Good Hope. Sir William Wiseman, his officers and men have made themselves very popular during their stay at this station, and they carry with them the best wishes of their host of friends for a safe and pleasant voyage to the Old Country.

Hardware Store Entered—Some time on Sunday night or early on Monday morning, entrance was effected to the tin and hardware store of A. & W. Wilson, on Broad Street. The intruder gained admittance to the premises by removing a pane of glass from one of the rear windows. Nothing is missing from the store, the burglar probably becoming alarmed and decamped before he had time to secure any booty.

Victoria Football Club Challenged—The Victoria Football Club have received a challenge from the Westminster boys, who wish to arrange a match for Saturday next, in Westminster. As it has always been customary for matches to be played on the grounds of the challenged team, the Victoria boys think that the game should be played in this city. The two clubs are in communication and, no doubt, a match will be arranged this week.

GREAT CROWD ABOARD SHIP

Sailing of Empress of Japan Yesterday for Orient Gala Affair

Carrying the largest number of passengers leaving this port for Hawaii and Orient ports for a number of years, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Japan, Captain L. D. Douglas, R.N.R., commander, sailed from Rithet Piers at 6:30 o'clock last evening for Honolulu, her first port of call on the long journey to Manila.

The sailing was featured with considerable color, serpentine being used freely by the sailing travelers throwing the fluttering tape from the towering sides of the big liner to their friends below on the dock. Partings were numerous and goodbyes plentiful, while an assembly of departing mission workers mingled their singing voices with those of a large delegation of Victoria supporters in the rendition of hymns just before the big ship left the dock.

Among the big liner's prominent travelers were Most Rev. Michael James O'Doherty, Archbishop of Manila, returning home; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Frisque, the former being representative of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester; Alex Frieder, of Frieder & Sons, Cincinnati, for Manila; Mr. and Mrs. D. F. McMullen, the former being principal of McMullen Agencies, Chefoo; R. G. Proby, member of the British Conservative Party, London, bound for China; Mr. and Mrs. B. Guggenheim, New York, for Kobe, and Jacob Brechner, of the Dan Brechner Company, Seattle, proceeding to Yokohama.

Others traveling included Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hughes, the former being general manager of the Union Insurance Company, Hongkong; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Blake and T. B. Ellis, on independent world tours.

The Lochmonar left the naval port for Vancouver shortly before 5 p.m.

Passengers on the Lochmonar included Miss A. L. Carlyle, Oak Bay, returning from a tour of the British Isles, with Miss E. Dinsdale, a companion, and Miss H. H. FOR CHINA MISSIONS

Greeting a party of young mission workers, bound for China, aboard the Empress of Japan on her arrival from Vancouver here yesterday, and wishing them bon voyage, were a number of Victorians interested in Oriental missions, led by Rev. W. A. Hick, formerly of the China Inland Mission.

In the outgoing party were twenty-two young persons, including four doctors and two married couples, all of whom will be identified with the China Inland Mission, and will go to various posts in China after mastering something of the country's language.

GOOD HUNTING

Two prominent German travelers aboard the Empress of Japan yesterday were Dr. H. Melhorn and W. Heydenreuter. They have been in America for almost a year, principally on the Pacific Coast. In Mexico for six months, they have visited Alaska and spent some time in British Columbia, latterly in the Kootenay section, where they enjoyed some big game hunting. They stated yesterday they had plenty of sport, getting some nice specimens of big horn sheep, elk, moose and a grizzly bear; while they said catching trout was too easy. Not going prepared to do any fishing, the opportunity proved too great a temptation, and while not possessing regulation tackle, they caught as many as they could eat with bent nails for hooks and shoe laces knotted together for lines.

Messrs. Melhorn and Heydenreuter will leave the Empress in Yokohama and will continue home to Germany through the Suez Canal aboard a German liner. Disembarking in Italy, they will complete their journey by rail.

SAYS CHARGES NOT ACCURATE

No Attempt Made by Vancouver Committee to Check Up Data

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (C.)—Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries in British Columbia, today denied charges made recently by a Vancouver city council committee that Japanese fishermen were responsible for depletion of the cod fisheries in certain areas of the province and that fishing licences had been greated illegally to aliens.

"The committee's report was evidently issued without any attempt being made to check up on the accuracy of the data in this department," Major Motherwell said.

He explained that there had been some evidence of depletion of ling cod, one of several species in British Columbia waters, and that Federal experts had undertaken a survey last year to ascertain extent of the loss and need for protective measures.

NO FOUNDATION

"Suggestion that fishing licences have been issued to unnaturalized Japanese has no foundation whatever," the fisheries supervisor stated. "A thorough investigation was made several years ago. No licence is issued unless it has been determined definitely that the qualifications are genuine. Should there be the slightest doubt, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police conduct an inquiry.

Referring to a recommendation by the city council's committee that a quota be established for issuance of fishing licences to Asiatic people, Major Motherwell declared that such a system had been in operation since 1923 under the Federal Fisheries Department.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of low water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 19.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

NO WIND FOR BIG BANKERS

Third Race Will Be Sailed Today if Weather Favors Schooners

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 14 (AP.)—The gods of the winds frowned on the fishermen today, forcing postponement of the third race between Fluenose, Captain Angus Walters' Canadian sailing champion of the North Atlantic, and Captain Ben Pine's Gloucester schooner, Gertrude L. Thebaud, the challenger.

Fog and rain and absence of a breeze presented impossible conditions for continuation of their sailing duel for the International Fishermen's Trophy. The race committee announced postponement of resumption of the three-of-five series until tomorrow.

Then, if someone can whistle up a wind, the schooners will contest a thirty-six-mile course which will take them twice around an eighteen-mile triangle.

The contenders will resume their title series on even terms, for Thebaud drew first blood in the opening race off Boston last Sunday and Bluenose took the second race yesterday.

Wages Are Unchanged

HALIFAX, Oct. 14 (C.)—Agreement reached today between union authorities and shipping companies provided a ten-hour day instead of fourteen hours, for about 200 stevedores at Sheet Harbor, N.S. The wage rate of 50 cents per hour remained unchanged.

CONTINUING ITS SEARCH

Coast Guard Plane Fails to Find Missing Fishing Schooner Enterprise

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 14 (AP.)—The fretful sea off the Oregon-Washington Coast was searched today by a coast guard plane for the Portland halibut schooner Enterprise.

The plane, after searching a strip of ocean seventy-five miles offshore from Cape Mears to Leadbetter Point, landed here for refueling last night, but took up the search again today.

The craft, commanded by Captain Conrad Swenson, Portland, had a crew of three aboard. Fishermen, unworried, blamed tardiness of the boat to a balky engine. Coast guardsmen feared heavy seas might have wrecked her.

The Astoria coast guard amphibian plane reported today it sighted a schooner believed to be the lost Portland halibut boat Enterprise about forty miles off coast. The pilot said the craft appeared to be proceeding under its own power toward Cape Mears.

Halibut Fishing Boat Returns to Port for Hearing

PRINCE RUPERT, Oct. 14 (C.)—The Vancouver halibut boat Bayview, Captain Dan Wedge, has been ordered into port here by the Fisheries Patrol for an alleged infraction of the Pacific international fisheries regulations. The charge is that of having halibut in possession in a closed area while fishing for other species.

Hearing will take place next week, with E. F. Jones acting for the prosecution and T. W. Brown for the defence.

SURVEY VESSEL RETURNS HOME

William J. Stewart Back at Winter Quarters in Upper Harbor Here

Finishing the season, the hydrographic survey ship William J. Stewart arrived at her berth in the Upper Harbor yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the houseboat Pender in tow. H. D. Parizeau, chief hydrographer, stated last evening.

Mr. Parizeau also said that a party of surveyors had been landed at Vancouver for the purpose of examining the mouth of the Capilano River, where it has been reported debris had been carried down by the stream and deposited in the steamer channel. This party is expected to finish its work today or tomorrow.

With the exception of a local job, this will be about all the field work which will be undertaken this Fall. The local work will entail sweeping Victoria Harbor to check the work being carried out by the Island Tug & Barge Company under the Victoria Harbor improvement scheme in an effort to remove certain hazards.

DIALECT COMEDY DELIGHTS HOUSE

"P.W.E." Play by Constance Gilmor, Well Received at Empire Theatre

A thoroughly wholesome little play, with a hearty laugh in every line, was enjoyed by the audience that went to the Empire Theatre last night to see the Punch and Judy Theatre presentation, "P.W.E.," the three-act Yorkshire comedy by the clever young Victoria playwright, Constance Gilmor.

While the plot is quite simple, in fact, "homely," the dialogue is extremely witty, carrying in its characteristic Yorkshire dialect a combination of sound sense, superb naivete, and colloquial vulgarity that brought gales of mirth from the audience.

The characters are excellently drawn, and the casting was extremely well done. In fact, one could not fail to be impressed by the fact that Victoria not only had the people for the parts, but that these people were able to play them with professional assurance and technique. The cast, numbering eighteen, was vociferously applauded when it lined up on the stage after the final act, and the authoress, called forward by several voices in the hall, very gracefully acknowledged the tribute paid to her creation by Victoria.

THE PLAY

The simple and innocent romance of Ada Mawson and Bob Overend furnishes the major theme, with the less simple and definitely tarnished relations of Milly Helliwell and Ernest Hopwood for contrast. The gossip revolving round these two events gives not only the "P.W.E." ("Pleasant Wednesday Evening") club members, but the listeners on the other side of the footlights homely entertainment. Heartiest of the commentators are the hard-worked Ada's Aunt Emma, Ada's strongest defender and champion; Ira Mawson, Ada's father, who, although a good patron of the village pub, is a decent chap with strong feelings in matters of essential honor; and Harriet Helliwell, a shrill, fault-finding scold, who rules the household with vixenish tongue, reserving whatever charm of thought she has for her spoiled and bad-tempered daughter, Milly.

All these parts were splendidly played; that of Ada, by Muriel Thompson, who, under the pen name of Constance Gilmor, hid her identity as the playwright also; Bob, her honest and hard-working sweetheart, who so carefully concealed his love for her until he had sufficient "laid by" to offer her a home at the same moment as he proposed marriage, played by J. Atkinson; Milly, the jealous and admiration-craving cousin, by Noel Cusack; and her too-smooth lover, Ernest, by Jack Barraclough. There was a nice directness, simplicity and sincerity in the scenes between the former couple, and an equally effective lack of the same qualities in the scenes between the latter pair.

STRONG CHARACTERIZATION

Mabel Ridley's character work is always first rate. In the part of Aunt Emma, she captured hearts instantly by her spontaneous frankness and good humor, which were a pleasant foil for the characteristics of the family shrew, Aunt Harriet, also splendidly played by Pat Fairweather. Douglas Flintoff's idea of Ira Mawson was very likeable, a little henpecked, but stubborn, and not a man to be "put upon," and very much to the point when slightly in his cups.

Others in the cleverly-used cast were Nellie Scowcroft, Winnie Scowcroft, Jenny Boyd, Jean Elliott, Nan Hutton, Sam Saunders, Jeanet Dobb, Bill Hutchison, Brenton Fairweather, Douglas Parke and B. W. White. Of the lesser parts, the last, although assigned but a dozen words, had distinct personality.

BABY KILLED BY GRANDFATHER'S TRUCK

CALGARY, Oct. 14 (AP).—Hit by a truck which, police said, was driven by Thomas Atkinson, his grandfather, Ronald Sharpe, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sharpe, was fatally injured here today. He died in hospital tonight.

HARDLY FLATTERING

The children, George, aged four, and Ernest, aged five, were being put to bed. "We do love you, mummy," said George, hugging her.

"Why do you love me, darling?"

"Cause we like your face."

"But it isn't much of a face," said mother.

That was a bit of a poser. The boy thought a moment. "But we've got used to it," he said.

"For $2 I will foretell your future."

"Are you a genuine soothsayer?"

"I am."

"Then you ought to know that I haven't got it."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Some defenders bear a rather startling resemblance to mice. In fact, I am being unkind to the mice in this analogy. When mice are caught in a trap, their frantic scurrying about is understandable because there is no escape for them. The defender, however, often does the same scurrying when actually he could push a door and saunter blithely out of the trap. East, in today's hand, could hardly qualify as a Houdini.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's opening two spade bid was justified by the fact that he held five honor tricks (including the plus values of the heart queen and diamond jack) and only four and one-half losers by the most pessimestic count.

West opened the heart king and continued with the ace. Declarer ruffed the second round, drew two rounds of trumps, and then, for want of a better play, laid down the ace, king, and jack of diamonds. East won the third round with the diamond queen, and gloomily accepted the fact that he was in an end play. Obviously, he could not return a heart without affording declarer a ruff and a discard, since dummy still had a trump and now was void of hearts. This left only clubs as an exit, and, probably with a resigned feeling, East cashed the club ace and then led the seven spot. Perhaps he hoped that declarer, if he held the club king, would be "fooled" as to the position of the queen, but declarer had no choice in the matter; he had to duck to the second club lead as the one reasonable chance of fulfilling the contract. Dummy's jack won and it was all over.

Considering that the dummy had no entry, declarer had played the hand as well as possible, but the fact remained that he should have been defeated and undoubtedly would have been if East had been less mouselike. East, after being thrown on lead with the diamond queen, had been right in his observation that only a club return was conceivable, but his selection of the ace followed by a low club was scarcely the best solution. The correct return was the club queen. Nothing but logic was necessary to its selection. If by any chance West had the club king, the queen lead would be on a par with the ace lead. But if the club king was in declarer's hand, where it certainly figured to be, the lead of the queen was the only one that might (and would) have a satisfactory result. Only by this lead could East retain the semblance of a tenace over dummy's club jack. Of course, if declarer happened to have the ten spot as well as the king, there was nothing to be done about it, but there was a very good chance that West had the ten-nine or the ten-eight of clubs.

Note how this would work out. Declarer must cover the club queen or concede two club tricks on the spot. After he covers, however, he is helpless. If he leads the six of clubs, West can play any card and North's jack loses to East's ace. West's ten spot then takes the setting trick. If declarer leads the club nine after winning with the king, West, of course, covers with the ten, forcing the jack, and the eight spot then becomes the master card. I recommend that my readers study this and other "escape" plays.

Provincial Police, who investigated, said that Mr. Wells had apparently succumbed to asphyxiation caused by carbon monoxide fumes from his car. The engine was running. An inquest will be held at Sands Mortuary early next week.

HITLER MAY BE MEDIATOR

tiations at Komarom with a Slovak delegation empowered to confer on the minority demands and announced she would appeal to the four powers which dismembered Czechoslovakia in favor of Germany on September 29.

In the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin no one thought for a moment Prime Minister Chamberlain, Premier Daladier, Premier Mussolini and Hitler would have to come together again to solve the Hungarian - Czechoslovak dispute.

Nazi circles did not even believe the matter would have to be referred to the international commission of ambassadors set up under the Munich accord.

Hitler, Chvalkovsky and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop conferred for nearly two hours and a communique announced "the Czechoslovak minister gave the Fuehrer assurance that Czechoslovakia would assume a loyal attitude toward Germany."

HUNGARY ORDERS MOBILIZATION

According to some reports here, Hitler and Mussolini offered Hungary their personal mediation to end the minorities deadlock.

It was believed one major difference existed between Hitler and Mussolini regarding the Hungarian claims. This was said to be Hungary's demand for a common border with Poland, which presumably would mean a cession of at least a strip of Ruthenia, Czechoslovakia's easternmost section.

Il Duce was said to support Hungary fully on this, while Hitler has demanded a Slovak border zone of a depth of at least twenty miles between Hungary and Poland.

This apparently was in order that Germany might have direct access to Rumania in the event Germany's proposal for a close economic relationship with Czechoslovakia is realized.

SEE HOPE IN RIVALRY

PRAGUE, Oct. 14 (AP).—Many Czechoslovaks tonight looked upon rivalry among Czechoslovakia's land and power-hungry neighbors to check Hungarian demands.

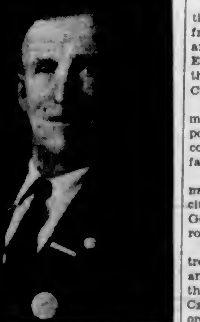

German opposition to any junction of Polish and Hungarian frontiers at the cost of Hungarian annexation of the greater part of Eastern Czechoslovakia was perhaps the principal hope of hard-pressed Czechoslovak patriots.

Czechoslovakia hoped also for a modicum of British and French support in a possible second four-power conference of what would be the fate of the twenty-year-old republic.

The possibility Czechoslovakia might draw closer to Poland was cited as a bargaining point to obtain German support against drastic inroads by Hungary.

The Prague Government sent new troops east into troubled Ruthenia, and strengthened her army along the Danube facing Hungary. The Czechoslovak regime was determined order be preserved, pending a decision on Hungary's demands.

Pains In The Back
Tell of deranged kidneys
Pains in the small of the back tell of kidney derangements.
Other symptoms are pallor, loss of weight, dryness of the skin and swelling of the limbs.
Backache is the most certain warning that the kidneys are failing to filter the poisonous uric acid from the blood.
You may also have frequent headaches and aching limbs, for acid poisons always cause bodily pains and aches.
If you want to remove the cause of such ailments, it is advisable to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For half a century they have proven their success as an effective means of restoring the health and activity of the kidneys, the liver and the bowels. It is because of their direct and combined action on these organs that they prove effective when ordinary medicines fail.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Local Y.W.C.A. Link In Strong Chain That Now Encircles World

Miss C. M. Van Asch Van Wijck, Vice-President of World's Council of Association, Addressed Two Meetings Here Yesterday

AS "one link in the great and strong chain which now encircles the world," the local Y.W.C.A. yesterday held two interesting functions arranged around the visit here of Miss C. M. Van Asch Van Wijck, vice-president of the World's Council of the association.

The first was a luncheon at which Mrs. E. W. Hamber and her private secretary, Mrs. Mae Rice, were additional guests of honor; the second was a well-attended lecture-meeting, which was followed by tea. At each of these, Miss Van Asch Van Wijck gave a splendid 'bird's-eye view of the world-movement aspect of a work in which, as she said, "each unit was but one link in a very great and strong chain encircling the world."

It had been, she said, a great privilege to come into touch with the association, both in its international and smaller national and local forms, as she traveled about the world in her official capacity. Those working in the smaller units might think their part very small indeed, sometime, but if one thought of the work in the larger frame, each unit a touch of significant color in a great picture, each worker trying in her own way to contribute her part to the glowing canvas, no work was insignificant.

NOT PRESUMPTUOUS

Those who started the International Y.W.C.A. in 1894 with but four national members were not so presumptuous as might then have been thought in calling the organization "international," as the movement in the intervening forty-four years had expanded to embrace about sixty countries, and plans were already afoot to celebrate the golden jubilee in 1944. Geographically, it had spread greatly; spiritually, also, it had expanded; both partly by spontaneous action, but also by consciously directed effort.

The international significance of the work could not be too much emphasized, said Miss Van Asch Van Wijck, for, unlike many other international organizations where the representatives met just occasionally at large international gatherings, the Y.W.C.A. foreign and "short-time" secretaries were constantly moving about from country to country and place to place, carrying with them an interpretation of the spirit, significance, achievement and meaning of the movement in the different places. The importance of this could not be overlooked at the present moment; for instance, when the strain of international relations was so tense.

While touching on this phase, the speaker cited some significant incidents that had happened at the past Summer's meeting of the world's council in Muskoka, Ont., and more recently at the Western regional conference held at Spokane just last week, where barriers of international feeling were bridged in the friendly meeting of representatives from China and Japan, and Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

VARIED CHARACTER

The varied character of the work in the international was also touched upon. Here the speaker specially recalled the part played by the Y.W.C.A. in guarding African girls with "jungle upbringing and all that this implied in tribal and religious traditions" when they drifted up into the life of the cities. The Y.W.C.A. opened its doors to these girls and helped them to adjust themselves to unfamiliar situations. Something was hinted, also, of the function of the Y.W.C.A. and its capacity for adaptation of method in such countries as China and India, with their vast illiterate masses. These instances suggested the expansion of the work in character as well as geographically.

Two movements worked together, side by side, in Y.W.C.A. work—one thinking in terms of spiritual fellowship and the deepening of Christian character, as represented in the original Y.W.C.A. movement in London; the other thinking in terms of service of every kind to meet the more temporal needs of young womanhood. In the different countries a slight emphasis of one or other of these aspects would be found, each a challenge to the other, but under the guidance of the international viewpoint always constantly approximating toward the common basis of mutual understanding; the need of deepening the spiritual significance of life, the bringing of the Gospel of Christ into the world in ways that could be integrated in the daily life of humanity. Each group gave stimulus to the other.

ALL-INCLUSIVE

Few other movements in the world had such all-inclusive membership or better represented a cross-section of society, the Y.W.C.A. embracing the home woman, the woman in industry, students, working girls. Its function in the physical fitness programmes in some countries was so well recognized that the organization was being assisted by subsidies to help with this work. In China, Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, when choosing women as leaders for the vast rehabilitation, reconstruction and relief work that had been forced on that country by the movement of people from the coast towns to the interior, had selected one-third of her personnel from the Y.W.C.A. This conceded the standing which the Y.W.C.A. had in international esteem.

Co-operation of the Y.W.C.A. with the youth movement generally and with specific youth movements was also mentioned. There was constant co-operation with other Christian organizations internationally organized. The Y.W.C.A. was the only women's group officially represented at the World's Church conference held at Oxford last year. Since the transfer of international headquarters from London to Geneva, the organization had also worked in close co-operation with the League of Nations in its humanitarian and social work, discussing such problems as traffic in women and children, opium, health and hygiene, etc.

Dr. Olga Jardine, first vice-president, expressed the thanks of those present at the luncheon gathering. Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, the president of the board, presided, and with her at the head table, in addition to the guests of honor, were Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary; Mr. F. E. Winslow, president of the Community Chest, and Mrs. H. L. Campbell, president of the Women's Canadian Club.

A challenge to Health-minded People

Give Dr. Jackson Meal this 30-day Breakfast Test.. Then try again the cereal you had been using and SEE HOW GLAD YOU ARE TO GET BACK TO DR. JACKSON MEAL

Who is Dr. Jackson?

Photograph of Robt. G. Jackson, M.D. taken in his 80th year.

At 50 years of age Dr. Jackson was a complete physical wreck, given but a few months to live, by the great Sir Wm. Osler. He was rapidly going blind and crippled. It was then Dr. Jackson invented Roman Meal (now Dr. Jackson Meal) to see if a complete change of eating and living habits would rejuvenate his body. He lived entirely upon Roman Meal for months taking systematic exercise in the fresh air. Today in his 81st year, Dr. Jackson has the strength, stamina and resistance of a trained young athlete and challenges physical degeneration, old age and sickness to attack him.

Read his challenge to you! in this advertisement.

• For valuable free bulletins on food and health write Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 576 Vine Avenue, Toronto.

Discover My Secret of Health

DR. JACKSON MEAL is the cereal food I invented 30 years ago to do a definite job — to build up my own wasted body — and it did the trick! It is not a sweet, highly-processed product that people taste and say "That's nice". There are lots of nice-tasting foods — some harmless, some with no food value to speak of, and, of course, no health value.

Dr. Jackson Meal needs chewing — that gets saliva flowing. It contains rye and wheat and bran — and, what no other cereal contains, Flax-o-Lin and rice polishings. It is rich in nature's nerve-building mineral salts and vitality-building germs. It provides the bulk which exercises the intestines, keeping them strong and preventing constipation.

Knowing this, and knowing what it has done for me and thousands of others, I said to myself "Why doesn't everyone use it?" The answer undoubtedly is, that many people carelessly choose "nice" foods instead of right foods.

So here is my challenge to those who seek after health. For 30 breakfasts eat Dr. Jackson Meal (or my other similar cereals, Lishus or Bekus Puddy) together with some fruit. Drink only Kofy-Sub—the greatest alkali-forming and iron-rich beverage known to me. Do this each morning for 30 breakfasts. Note how your digestion has improved — your intestinal elimination increased—how alert you feel mentally and physically. THEN switch back to your previous cereal, for a few weeks, and again check yourself up. If you don't feel that in passing up Dr. Jackson foods you are depriving your body of the vital nourishment it craves, I have nothing more to say — you have accepted my challenge — that's all I asked of you.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

FINDING THE PLANTS WHICH CAUSE SOME CASES OF ECZEMA

One of the sayings among medical students is that if one wants a good "specialty" he should choose to be a skin specialist, as the patient never calls you at night, he never dies of his skin ailment, and the skin ailment itself never gets better, or gets better for a short time only.

Still another reason why being a skin specialist is not so difficult is that as half the skin ailments are some form of eczema, if every skin ailment were to be called eczema, the skin specialist would be right at least half the time anyway.

As a matter of fact, the symptoms of eczema usually stand out sufficiently to be recognized because of the moist, "weeping" or catarrhal condition of the skin with itching, burning, and heat, but the cause of eczema may take some weeks or even months to discover. This is because skin specialists are now agreed that eczema is due to both inside and outside causes. The inside causes may be gout, rheumatism, disorders of digestion, lack of thyroid juice, being sensitive to various foods or other substances. The outside causes are what are called "contact" cases of eczema, due to the fact that the patient touched or came in contact with certain substances known to cause eczema.

Among the common contact eczemas is that due to contact with plants. As the testing of these plants as a cause of eczema in any patient often takes weeks or months, Doctors Bedford Shelmire and J. Harvey Black, in The Journal of the American Medical Association, tell of their "short method", for testing suspected cases of contact eczema from plants by using plant oils as the testing material. They keep always on hand forty oils which have been kept at room temperature for two years.

After explaining their simple method of obtaining these oils from the dried plants they state:

"The back is the part of the body chosen for application of the tests. In applying an oil a capillary tube (tube of glass so small that it allows just one drop at a time to flow) is used. The drop of oil is then placed on the skin and spread by the tip of the capillary tube over about two-fifths of an inch skin surface. The tests are applied up and down in four rows of ten each; no covering is placed over these forty spots. After a few minutes allowed for drying, the upper test in each row is numbered with 10 per cent silver nitrate. Patients are advised not to bathe for twenty-four hours. About five minutes is required to apply and properly number the forty tests with forty oils."

The skin will show a reaction if any of the numbered oils is responsible for the eczema.

KILLED AT CROSSING

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (CP).—William Smith, of Winnipeg, managing director of Gold Shore Mines, and a companion, were killed yesterday when their automobile was demolished at a grade crossing in suburban Calumet City by a southbound Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train.

FORETELLS RAIN AS RESULT OF SUNSPOTS

VALLEJO, Cal., Oct. 14 (AP).—Capt. T. J. See, retired navy astronomer, said today he believed the West Coast was due for a rainy season fully as heavy as last year and perhaps a trifle worse.

See said huge sunspots, crossing the meridian of the sun, indicated Winter rains might start a little sooner than usual.

Atonement Is Subject For Sunday

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him" (I Thess. v, 9).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones receiveth strength." (Acts iii, 6, 7).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "First in the list of Christian duties, He taught His followers the healing power of Truth and Love. He attached no importance to dead ceremonies. It is the living Christ, the practical Truth, which makes Jesus 'the resurrection and the life' to all who follow Him in deed."

"Britain and Her Enemies; a World-Wide Struggle Ahead," will be the topic of E. E. Richards' address to be given on Monday, under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation, in the Campbell Building at 8 o'clock.

Herr Hitler's renewed warlike utterances and the vast additions to the present heavy rearmament schemes of Britain and France with accelerated speed will be dealt with.

The responsibility of Canada as the major self-governing State of the Empire, the speaker will claim, is second only to that of Great Britain, and the Dominion, he believes, should be placed on a war footing, as the crisis swings again to the Far East. Lantern slides will be used.

Problems Are Discussed At Institute Gathering

Women From North Island Settlements Meet at Qualicum Beach to Hear Reports and to Elect Officers for Coming Year

QUALICUM BEACH, Oct. 14.—A wide field of problems was considered at the North Island District Rally of Women's Institutes, held here on Thursday at the Community Hall. In spite of difficulties of transportation and lack of direct road communication, a large number of delegates were present, from the smaller branches on the islands, and two from Sayward, who had covered the first part of their trip to Campbell River on foot.

After the opening prayers by Rev. J. A. Petrie, the delegates were welcomed by Mrs. C. R. Tryon, president of the district. Reports of the year's activities by delegates from the various branches provided many points of comment. In Courtenay, Mrs. Embleton said, the highlight of the year had been an exhibition of Empire industries, showing the life and products of many countries, and a visit to a Mennonite school near Merville had proved a splendid study of work among new Canadians.

BAD CONDITIONS

The Sayward Highway, stated delegates from that district, seems as far off as ever, in spite of repeated requests to the Government over many years. They have now no doctor nor nurse in the district, and their report indicated a fine pioneer spirit in overcoming the problems of an isolated district. Excellent constructive work was shown in the reports of the branches at Qualicum, Parksville, Hornby Island, Denman Island and Lazo, which were presented by their delegates, while those of Valdez Island, Cortez Island and Whaletown were read.

In the Whaletown branch, the ancient Indian craft of weaving with cedar roots has been taken up, with an Indian girl as instructor, with excellent results.

THE ADDRESSES

The spirit and function of Women's Institutes were outlined by Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, provincial supervisor of institutes. Great interest was shown in a constructive address by Mrs. E. H. Tomer, provincial agricultural convener, herself a practical farmer and originator of a new strain of strawberry in the province. Women, she said, could aid the consumption of our farm products materially. In looking for export markets, our co-operatives have often overlooked the local markets at their doors. She outlined the value of soil analysis in maintaining the mineral content of farm and garden produce, which is an important factor in building up the health of the family. A surplus of farm products, she declared, would always exist until science takes a hand and finds other uses for them. Meanwhile, the women should work to educate others along co-operative lines.

Regarding the problem of the young people, Mrs. Tomer commended the youth training scheme of the University of British Columbia, and hoped that institutes would do all in their power to encourage training classes. Many questions were asked after her address, and she was asked by the meeting to undertake a tour of the district this Winter, speaking at all its branches.

OFFICERS ELECTED

In the election of officers for the coming year, Mrs. H. Bryant, Courtenay, was appointed president; Mrs. G. Mant, Qualicum Beach, vice-president, and Mrs. R. H. Hodgson, Qualicum Beach, secretary; with Mrs. Parnell, Hornby Island, and Mrs. Swan, Denman Island, as directors.

Hearty votes of thanks were tendered to Mrs. Tryon and members of the retiring board, and to the Qualicum District Institute for its hospitality, and messages of good wishes were read from Mrs. J. L. White, Victoria, and Mrs. A. Moseley, a former president for many years.

A resolution from the Valdez Island branch asking support for a ferry to Quathiaski Cove was endorsed by the meeting. In dealing with agricultural problems, it was suggested that branches might use the advisory services of the Department of Agriculture much more freely than they are doing. Much interest was shown in Mrs. MacLachlan's display of beautiful handmade rugs, and in the many handwoven and other articles made by members of the various branches.

ADDRESS GIVEN BY DR. RICKARD

Iron and Copper First Used By Indians Came in Driftwood From Japan

Interesting evidence that the iron used by the Indians of British Columbia in the early days of settlement of the West Coast, came from driftwood washed ashore by the Japanese current and having its origin in Japan, was given by Dr. T. A. Rickard during his address to the B.C. Historical Society last evening in the Parliament Buildings library.

Dr. Rickard's paper, which will later be published in the Historical Society's Journal, was of great interest, and the subject, "The Use of Iron and Copper by the Indians of British Columbia," had been given the careful and thorough study which is typical of Dr. Rickard. It was interesting to note, said Dr. Rickard, that in 1778 Capt. Cook found the Indians using knives and spears tipped with pointed copper and two silver tablespoons were also in use. It was subsequently learned, however, that the spoons had been taken from the Spaniards.

SPOILS OF THE SEA

The Indians formed knives by flattening nails by hammering with a stone, and the explanation of the question as to where the nails had been obtained was answered by the later proof that nails and bits of iron and copper had been washed ashore among driftwood, "spoils of the sea," as Dr. Rickard described it.

May theories had been suggested as to the origin of the metals used by the Indians, some people supposing that there were mines, another theory being that the iron was "native." There was definite evidence of Japanese blood in the veins of the Coast Indians and many Japanese words were to be found in the Indian languages, said Dr. Rickard. The speaker quoted interesting extracts from the journals of the early explorers, all of whom had commented upon and been puzzled by the presence of iron and copper in use among the natives.

ANNUAL MEETING

Major Nation moved the vote of thanks to Dr. Rickard, the members heartily endorsing the tribute paid the speaker.

The annual meeting will be held at the Empress Hotel on October 26, and will take the form of a dinner meeting.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

COWICHAN

The Cowichan Institute held its monthly meeting at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. G. Colk, with Mrs. L. Evans, president, in the chair. It was arranged to hold a display and demonstration of women's handicrafts in November. Tea will be served and cooked food sold to provide funds to cover expenses. The treasurer was instructed to write to Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, superintendent of Women's Institutes, and state the number of copies the Institute will take of the magazine which Lady Tweedsmuir is sponsoring. Mrs. J. McDonald, Institute representative at the South Island district conference, gave a splendid account of the sessions. It was decided that the Institute would have its usual stall at the annual hospital bazaar. Tea was served by Mrs. L. Evans and Mrs. Jennie McDonald. Three visitors were welcomed. Mrs. Foster, Mayne Island, showed some beautiful hand-woven articles, which she had made.

BRENTWOOD

The Brentwood Institute held its meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the Institute Hall with Mrs. M. Atkins presiding. Final arrangements were made to hold a Hallowe'en masquerade party for the children of the surrounding districts at the Institute Hall, Brentwood Bay, Friday, October 28. On Tuesday, October 18, a bridge party will be held at the Institute Hall in the afternoon. The members decided to hold the annual bazaar, bridge and five hundred card party at the hall on December 30. There will be a wool bee at the hall on Friday, October 21, to make up a comforter for the bazaar. All the members brought fruit and jam, which will be sent to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. George Bickford for the splendid report she gave on the conference, which was held at Victoria. Tea was served by the members.

ARCADE BUILDING ANNEX

Organizer of Liberal Party Gives Address

"Liberalism means basically the opportunity for the individual to make the most of himself or herself in the journey through life according to individual choice," said Mr. Charles Reid, who described himself as the "paid organizer of the Liberal party in British Columbia," during the course of his address to the Liberal Women's Forum yesterday afternoon at its headquarters.

Mr. Reid, who comes from Vancouver, was addressing a Victoria gathering of Liberal women for the first time. He devoted the early part of his discourse to matters connected directly with politics. Regarding other parties, he said "any time you have such schools of thought as Socialism, C.C.F., etc., which stand for social security and individual security, there will always be the absolute penalty to pay that the Government will regiment and control the life of the individual."

ALASKA-YUKON HIGHWAY

He spoke of the proposed Alaska-Yukon Highway, which, he said, would mean employment to 5,000 men for five years. He stated that the road would be of great benefit to the province, and among the chief beneficiaries would be the farmers of the Fraser Valley, who "would be able to sell their produce to the inhabitants of the North." His advice to the women was "back up the road, if for no other reason that the Tories are opposed to it."

Mr. Reid talked about gold, of the fascination of it in every part of the world and among all peoples. This led him to speak of the mining industry in the province, which, he said, "will be the greatest single industry in British Columbia."

Mrs. A. C. Ross moved the vote of thanks to the speaker. Mrs. F. J. Mitchell was in the chair. Nominations were received, and Mrs. Mitchell was unopposed for the office of president. Mrs. Slater two delightful solos, with Mrs. Bertucci at the piano. Tea was served after the meeting.

CANADIAN PRESS CORRECTS ERROR

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (C.P.)—I. P. Hellmuth, K.C., counsel for MacLean's Magazine at the Royal Commission investigation into the Government's Bren gun contract, today drew attention to an error in The Canadian Press report of proceedings yesterday.

The report erroneously attributed to Mr. Hellmuth the remark: "This is not a political trial, but the public is making it one."

Today he drew attention to the fact that the remark was made by Aime Geoffrion, K.C., counsel for the John Inglis Company, which holds the Bren contract.

"In The Canadian Press report published in the morning paper, I am quoted as having said that this was not a political trial, but that the public were making it one," Mr. Hellmuth said.

"I made no such remark. You will see, Mr. Commissioner, as reported on page 1,647 of the proceedings, that the remark attributed to me was made by my learned friend, Mr. Geoffrion. I would not mention it if it were merely a remark of mine, but as I appear as representative of MacLean's Magazine, I certainly would not want it to go out that I had said the public were making it a political trial. I do not think I need say more on the subject."

The commissioner, Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, said: "It is quite plain on the official record."

Mr. Hellmuth: "Yes, but I thought as it had got some publicity I should correct it."

The Canadian Press regrets the error and any inconvenience it may have caused Mr. Hellmuth.

Western Hockey Teams Preparing For the Openers

All Senior and Junior Players Must Be Registered With Clubs by Today—Manitoba Concentrating on Junior Crown Again—Prairie Clubs Will Be Formidable

WINNIPEG, Oct. 14 (CP).—If variety is the spice of a hockey club's life, there'll be plenty of pepper sprinkled over Western Canada's ice lanes this Winter.

The wholesale migration of hockey players, which begins in the Spring with the final whistle of Memorial and Allan Cup finals, ends officially tomorrow at midnight, when all senior and junior players must be registered with their new clubs.

Manitoba, a province where senior hockey is a thing of the past, again will concentrate on junior players, and several strong clubs will fight for the right to defend the Dominion championship, won last Spring by St. Boniface Seals and in 1937 by Winnipeg Monarchs.

Calgary has gathered a promising band of players for a senior club. Prize acquisition is Dave Duchak, brilliant centre of last year's Allan Cup-winning Trail Smoke Eaters. Duchak will coach.

LETHBRIDGE STRONG

Lethbridge Maple Leafs promise to be another power on the Alberta senior front. Harvey Barnes, a defenceman from Peterborough, Ont., has moved there, and they have Dick (Toad) Klein and Jack Milford, who played with Wembley Monarchs in England last year. Other newcomers include Ron Sutherland, Nelson Maple Leafs.

Olds Elks have added Gordon Robbins, from Prince Albert; Bill Onafreychuk, from Lethbridge; Mayer Flett, Louis Rimstad, Bill Gauf, Bob Proulx and Bud Algar, from Edmonton; Putt Holditch, from Drumheller; Sil Silverman, from Regina, and Eddie O'Keefe, from Saskatoon.

Edmonton's unnamed senior club has collected Cliff Feistead, from Winnipeg's junior Rangers; Romeo Martel, former Winnipeg Monarch junior; Pete Ettinger, from Saskatoon; John Kilburn, from Fredericton; Mark Maveety, from Duluth Zephyrs; John Matson, from Fort William, and George Pearson, who spent last year with Harringay Greyhounds in England.

Drumheller Miners will have the five Bentley brothers on their 1938 roster. Doug Bentley led Moose Jaw Millers in scoring last Winter. Reg played with brother Doug at Moose Jaw, while Max, Scoop and Roy performed in Drumheller.

STAR PERFORMERS

Saskatoon Quakers have added several outstanding players to last season's powerful club. Maurice Marchant comes from Winnipeg's junior Rangers; Garnett Betts, from Fort William Wanderers, and Red Goble, from Kimberley Dynamiters.

Goalie Hal Cathcart, from Portage Terriers; Elmer Lach, from Weyburn; Lucien Martel, from Winnipeg Monarchs, and Tommy Cooper, from Olds Elks, have been added to Moose Jaw Millers, while Regina Aces have acquired Stan Bladon, from Portage, and Lude Check, Pete Slobodzian and Bill Snieder, from Brandon Wheat Kings. Yorkton Terriers picked up Don Robbins from Prince Albert.

Larry Gains and Pancho Villa in Draw in Scotland

EDINBURGH, Oct. 14 (CP-Reuters).—Larry Gains, Toronto negro heavyweight, and Pancho Villa, of Spain, fought to a twelve-round draw tonight. Gains weighed 211 pounds and Villa 195.

In the early rounds, Gains outfought the Spaniard, flooring him three times for short counts. Villa withstood a barbage of heavy rights to the head, then in the last four rounds managed to pile up points with a series of left and right body jabs, to gain a draw.

Important Matches Scheduled Along Battlefront In United States

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP).—The United States' weekly college football drama, starring one principal attraction in each section of the country and backing that up with a notable supporting cast, moves into scene three of its October act tomorrow before another array of packed houses.

The six headliners are expected to draw 212,000 spectators—57,000 for Minnesota-Michigan and 29,000 for U.C.L.A.-California; 26,000 for Alabama-Tennessee; 25,000 each for Syracuse-Cornell and Texas A. and M.-Texas Christian.

The Minnesota-Michigan, Pitt-Wisconsin, Alabama-Tennessee and Syracuse-Cornell games draw added importance from the fact they bring together undefeated teams.

ROUTINE WINNER AT BAY MEADOWS

SAN MATEO, Calif., Oct. 14 (AP).—Routine, three-year-old gelding owned by Louis B. Mayer, of Hollywood, hung a nose decision on the field today to win the one-mile Merced Handicap at Bay Meadows track, for a purse of $1,000.

Tripiane took second after leading until the last few strides. Cue Ball ran third. The time was 1:39 2-5.

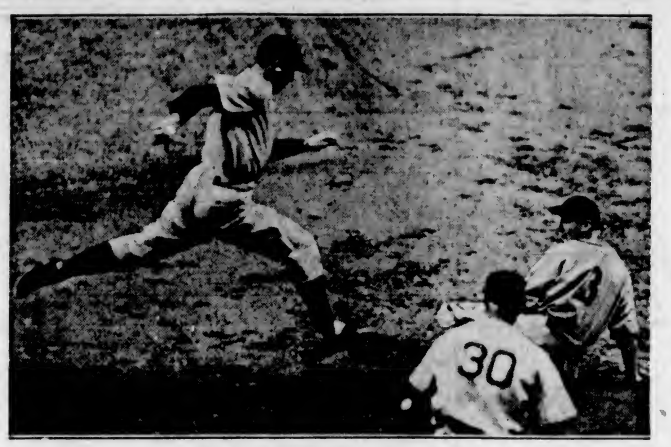

Routine, ridden by Paul Ryan, of Chicago, closed as the shortest-priced favorite of the meeting thus far.

The winner paid $2.80, $2.20 and $2.20. Tripiane returned $2.60 and $2.40 and Cue Ball, $3.00.

HECK FOWLER COACHING

SASKATOON, Oct. 14 (CP).—Norman "Heck" Fowler, former National Leaguer, who led Saskatoon Quakers to the Allan Cup finals in 1333 against Moncton Hawks, was appointed coach of the Wesley Junior Hockey Club for the 1938-39 campaign in an official announcement made by club officials today.

Hero of the Series Crashes Triple

Frankie Crosetti, hard-hitting shortstop of the New York Yankees, who was the hero of the series against the Chicago Cubs, is shown making third safely on a triple which scored Joe Gordon and Charlie Ruffing in the second inning of that fatal last game. The Yanks scored three runs in this frame, totaled eight runs against the Cubs' three, and won their third straight world's championship for another new record for the books.

Murray Patrick to Be Given Chance in N.H.L. With Rangers

Victorian and Larry Molyneaux Promoted From Philadelphia Ramblers to Patrick's Team—Five Defencemen Now With Club

WINNIPEG, Oct. 14 (CP).—Murray Patrick and Larry Molyneaux will get their chance in the National League Hockey League this Winter.

Lester Patrick, whose New York Rangers are preparing here for another N.H.L. campaign, made known promotion of the two defencemen today.

Patrick, 212-pound son of Lester, and Molyneaux spent most of last season with Philadelphia Ramblers in the International American League. Late last season they moved up to Rangers when Art Coulter and Babe Pratt, regular New York defencemen, were injured.

For three weeks Patrick and Molyneaux alternated between New York and Philadelphia, playing minor league hockey one night and major league the next. They are said to have traveled some 3,000 miles in playing thirteen league and play-off games in twenty days.

Molyneaux, ruggedly-built, blond defenceman, will open a season in the majors after six years of minor league hockey. He turned professional in 1932 with Springfield Indians, then a Ranger farm team in the Canadian-American League.

Muzz Patrick, Victoria boy and former Canadian amateur heavyweight boxing champion, and star at basketball, Rugby and other sports, turned pro with Ramblers in 1936.

Rangers will carry five defencemen during the early part of the new season. Molyneaux and Patrick will replace Joe Cooper, who has been sent to Philadelphia. They will alternate with Ott Heller, Babe Pratt and Art Coulter on the Ranger rearguard.

Dubonnet Choice For Ceasarewitch

LONDON, Oct. 14 (CP).—Following an impressive run at Newmarket J. P. Hornung's Dubonnet was made favorite for the Ceasarewitch tonight in a callover of odds at the Victoria Club. The four-year-old son of Paprus was backed at 100 to 9 for the big handicap, to be run October 26 after finishing second in today's Jockey Club Cup over the Ceasarewitch course.

Dubonnet replaced Lord Fitzwilliam's Snipe Wood, who fell off to 100 to 6. Other odds: Black Speck, 100 to 8; Solonaise, 100 to 7; Snake Lightning, 100 to 6; Pet, 20 to 1; Contravent, 25 to 1; Nettleweed 28 to 1, and Earthstopper and Punch, 33 to 1.

B.C. Commission Turns Down Elks At Meeting Here

MEMBERS of the British Columbia Football Commission were in the city yesterday and met officials of the Elks Football Club regarding a franchise in the Inter-City League. They also had a conference with the executive of the Victoria and District League at the Empress Hotel. The commission, after hearing another appeal from the Elks Club, turned them down a second time, stating it wouldn't be playing ball with Victoria United, which has had a franchise in the league in past seasons. The United will have the franchise again this season, and the B.C. Commission guaranteed them that the Inter-City League schedule would be completed this year. Last season the schedule was never finished. Soccer officials behind the Elks Club stated that they would not operate this season as previously planned.

VICTORIANS LEADING AS FIELD GOES INTO FINAL DAY OF RACE

Torchy and Doug Peden Tied With Debaets and Guimbretiere in Laps, But Well in Front of Rivals in Sprint Points—Three Teams Are Tied for the Runner-Up Berth

MONTREAL, Oct. 14 (CP). — Two teams, one the newly-formed combination of Gerard Debaets and Marcel Guimbretiere, were tied in mileage early today as riders in Montreal's six-day bike race headed into the last twenty-four hours. Torchy and Doug Peden, of Victoria, held a lead over the new team in sprint points.

The Peden brothers had compiled 538 points to 286 for Debaets-Guimbretiere. A bad spill forced Jules Audy, Guimbretiere's partner at the start of the race, to the sidelines late tonight. Saavedra, who was Debaets' partner, dropped out to allow forming of the new team which started two laps off the pace.

Standing at midnight:

	Miles	Laps	Pts.
Peden-Peden	1,885	0	538
Debaets-Guimbretiere	1,885	0	286
Kilian-Vopel	1,884	9	622
Walthour-Crossley	1,884	9	288
Georgetti-Moretti	1,884	9	266
Rodman-Bedard	1,884	8	173
O'Brien-Yates	1,884	7	348
De Bacco-Testa	1,884	6	200

Audy was forced to withdraw following a four-way crash with Doug Peden, Raymond Bedard and Jimmy Walthour. Extent of his injuries was not immediately known, but race officials announced the withdrawal a few minutes after he retired to the dressing-room for treatment.

WORLD RECORD MAY BE MADE

Victory for Outsider in Cesarewitch Stakes Will Make Big Double

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 14 (CP).—World records for totalisator dividends in daily doubles will be broken if an outsider wins the Cesarewitch October 26, the Betting Control Board indicated today.

An announcement by the board showed only seven persons, holding about 120 tickets between them, backed the Cambridgeshire winner, Helleniqua, in the first leg of the "Autumn double" Wednesday.

Even if a well-backed horse such as Dubonnet or Black Speck wins, there will be a return of nearly £2,500 ($11,832) for a half-crown (60 cents) ticket. If an outsider wins, the return may amount to £12,417 ($58,732).

The present double record is £5,000 for a ten-shilling ticket, won by Lord Digby last March when he picked Battleship to win the Grand National and Barbadeche to take the Bickerstaffe Plate, at Aintree.

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., Oct. 14 (CP).—J. T. Payette's Simcoe Harvester is out to set a record for Canadian-owned horses, with thirteen wins in thirteen starts.

Simcoe Harvester's most recent victory was in the 2:12 pace at Pennsylvania's York Fair last week. The horse has won other races on tracks in Ontario, Quebec, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts.

Westhead's Punch Is Injured During Wednesday's Race

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 14 (CP).—Tom Westhead's Punch, one of the favorites for the Cesarewitch to be run here October 26, rapped a hock during a race here Wednesday, his owner announced today.

It was word of his injury which caused a sharp rise in the odds against the horse in last night's callover at the Victoria Club, in London. He went from 100 to 6 to 33 to 1.

Mr. Westhead said that as a result of his injury, Punch's chance in the Cesarewitch must be regarded as hopeless. The owner had coupled his candidate with Helleniqua, winner of last week's Cambridgeshire, in the "Autumn double," and stood to win a fortune were Punch to be successful.

McGILL FACES ARGOS TODAY IN THE EAST

Crowd of 17,000 Expected To Watch Important Grid Battle

TORONTO, Oct. 14 (C.P.)—The strange position of the Inter-Provincial Rugby Football Union in the background of gridiron activity confronts the East this week-end, concrete evidence of the renewed interest being taken in feature games of rival leagues.

With the Big Four results accepted conclusions—Toronto Argonauts to whip Montreal Cubs, and Ottawa Rough Riders to beat Hamilton Tigers—interest centres on Sarnia and Toronto, where the Inter-Collegiate and Senior Ontario Union leads will be decided.

McGill Redmen, touted for the college championship on the strength of Herb Westman's kicking, pit their offensive against University of Toronto before an expected 17,000 in Varsity Stadium tomorrow.

At Sarnia, the powerful Imperials are ready for Montreal Nationals, competing in the O.R.F.U. for the first time. Imperials rank as favorites.

Rounding out the schedule, Toronto Balmy Beach will play Peterborough Orfuns, at Peterborough, in the O.R.F.U., and Queen's will try for its first victory against University of Western Ontario at London.

BRONKS TO PLAY

CALGARY, Oct. 14 (C.P.)—Carl Cronin, seeking points for his Calgary Bronks in the Western Football Conference, isn't going to take any chances against Edmonton Eskimos here Saturday.

The strongest squad he can muster will be turned out by Coach Cronin against the Northern challengers, who have failed to win a game this season.

After watching the workouts, Calgary sportsmen predict a wide-open, closely-fought contest, the Bronks seeking a chance to open up and test some of their newer players.

GAME AT REGINA

REGINA, Oct. 14 (C.P.)—Regina's Roughriders and Winnipeg's Blue Bombers meet again tomorrow on a Regina gridiron, and although this has been going on for years, there is no sign of a let-up in fan interest. When the kick-off is made tomorrow afternoon, some 400 Winnipeggers will be there.

With Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg tied for leadership in union standings, either Bombers or Roughriders must win both of their remaining two games to retain hope of finishing in first place, as Calgary closes its season with two games against the winless Edmonton Eskimos.

SAYS INDUSTRY HERE THROTTLED

Charge That Governmental Interference Retards Investment Made by Members

Governmental interference with legitimate business was attacked by Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., in addressing Ward Three Conservatives in the Campbell Building last evening.

"How can capital flow into this country for industrial purposes when industry is throttled beyond all reasonable limits? Capital is certainly necessary, but no reasonable man or body of men will risk their money in any country where they do not know from day to day what restrictions or what unreasonable regulations may be established by governments," the speaker said.

STATESMANSHIP NEEDED

Statesmanship, not professional politicians, was the need of this country, the speaker continued. "We want men whose main idea and whose main effort should be directed towards the betterment of mankind and not men who think only of self and what can I make out of politics? Just so long as you have this situation, just so long will you have so-called politicians held in disrepute and governments spending a very appreciable portion of the taxpayers' money for the sole purpose of keeping themselves in power," Dr. Hunter stated.

A short entertainment was presented under the direction of Mrs. J. Taylor, interspersed with community singing. Those contributing to the programme were Mrs. Taylor, A. Weatherill, R. P. James, Miss James, Miss White and H. Clear. Percy Fletcher was accompanist.

APPEALS FOR FOOD

PARIS, Oct. 14 (CP-Havas).—An appeal for increased shipment of wood from democratic countries to Spain to save "hundreds of thousands of women and children from the unspeakable tortures of hunger" this Winter, was made by Foreign Minister Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, of Spain, in an article in the newspaper Paris-Soir.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES DEBATE PENSIONS

Association Disapproves of Several Clauses in New Superannuation Plan

At a meeting of the City Hall Officials' Association a motion was passed approving a superannuation allowance on a flat pension basis, regardless of position or salary.

A. R. C. Morton, James Marrs, John Baxter, W. Yule and M. Frank Hunter were appointed a committee to interview the superannuation commission in regard to various new pension plan proposals.

Those at the meeting agreed that employees should be able to retire at sixty years of age, not sixty-five years as specified in new pension plans. They also felt an employee should be entitled to his full share of a pension after twenty years' service.

Opposition was registered to a clause in the new plan, limiting the amount of money a pensioner could earn in addition to his regular allowance.

A retirement age of fifty-five for women was favored. The new plan sets the age at sixty years.

The association was in favor of payment of a pension to any new employee who up to the date of his retirement had been unable to complete a minimum of twenty years' service prior to reaching minimum pension age.

Benefit Social Will Be Staged

Preliminary plans for a benefit social for J. G. McKenzie, secretary of the Ward One Victoria Liberal Association, were made at the regular meeting held last evening. A military "500" card party will be held on October 28 in the headquarters, and letters will be sent to all the wards inviting them to attend.

W. T. Straith, M.P.P., gave a talk on the Kelowna convention and the aftermath of the Campbell River fire. The speaker told of the widespread injury to animal life in the area that was destroyed by the big conflagration and how the burning of many tree tops would prevent them from contributing to natural reforestation.

Veterans' Concert

An entertaining programme, arranged by W. Hansen, was given at the Army and Navy Veterans' Club on Thursday evening. Among those who appeared on the programme were: Billy Buxton and Pete Sallaway, sports interview; C. Prescott and J. Dobie, vocal solos; the Lavery Harmonica Band; Tom Obee and Stanley James, comedians; Ted Braggs and Ray Hunt, tap dancers; Miss Doris Preston, tap and acrobatic dance, accompanied by the Cornhuskers; pupils of Miss Betti Clair, dances; Bruce Allen, song and dance; Doreen Kohurt, toe dance; Miss Enid Middleton, vocal solos, and Iris Brooks, tap dance. Jerry Schofield was the accompanist.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

NELSON, B.C., Oct. 13 (C.P.)—Seth Daniel Ostlund was acquitted by an Assize Court jury last night of a charge of murdering Mrs. Laura Green. The jury deliberated twenty-five minutes. Mrs. Green was slain June 15 last at Taghum, seven miles west of here.

U.B.C. COACH NAMES TEAM

Selects Line-Up for Game Tonight Against Dominoes Here

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (C.P.)—Maury Van Vliet, director of physical education at the University of British Columbia, tonight named a team of ten for a trip to Victoria to meet Dominoes in a basketball exhibition tomorrow night.

Van Vliet said basketball material at the university was "scarce" this year. The match with the powerful Islanders would show any weaknesses in the new Varsity basketballers, Van Vliet said, and would give him a chance to get the 1938-39 Thunderbird machine in shape before the inter-city season opens here late this month.

The team was named as follows: By Straight, Alex Lucas, Ted Palfis, Frank Turner, Jack Denis, "Bud" Matheson, Don Livingston, E. Miller, Doug Gross and Harvey Reese.

CONSERVATIVE HEAD CHOSEN CANDIDATE

purchasing power of those now unemployed or partially so.

Dr. Manion's proposal for the present was "all reasonable economies should be instituted on both roads through their own headquarters as well as through co-operative measures decided on by the two railways in consultation with their employees."

EXPRESSES GRATITUDE

Gratitude to Prime Minister Mackenzie King was expressed by the Conservative Leader for the Prime Minister's suggestion there be no Liberal candidate in London, a suggestion acceded to by London Liberals. E. O. Hall, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation entry, is the only other candidate at present.

There had been charges he was not specific enough in advocating remedies for unemployment and other evils, said Dr. Manion.

"I'm not the physician in charge of the patient," he added. "When the time comes I'll prescribe the remedy. There is no need for me to supply all the cures for a Government which hasn't discovered them itself."

An adequate, moderate, "not too high" tariff was what National Conservatives believed in, Dr. Manion said. Such a policy would not only benefit the industrial worker but would preserve the home market for the Canadian farmer who sells 90 per cent of his goods in the domestic market.

TO HOLD HOME MARKET

"The purpose of the tariff is to hold the home market for our own producers," the Conservative Leader continued.

Social justice was an imperative demand in Canada, Dr. Manion said. Unemployment was the nation's greatest problem, not excepting the railway issue. It cost the nation twelve times as much as the latter.

"It is the great defect of our system," Dr. Manion said. "It must be removed if the system were to compete with Fascism or Communism. The threat to political democracy was in economic insecurity."

Fear of poverty in old age was a mounting thing, he said. It must be remedied.

Dictor: "What can be the cause of that crowd over there?"

Demog: "I can't imagine. Vulgar curiosity, I presume.

Dictor: "Let's go over and see."

HANDFUL OF STARS

by MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

CHAPTER XXXV

"Well, the holidays are over," Jeff said, "I've got to get down to brass tacks about finding a job."

The hand that held Lyle's relaxed. Why did the fun have to be over? That was the only time he really lived or cared to live—when there was music and lovely girls. Why wasn't he born rich? How could people like work? Stephen liked his. Lyle liked hers. He couldn't understand anybody's liking to work. But there was the money he owed Lyle, the money she had given him to put in their joint bank account. . . .

Lyle said, "I heard some men talking at Stephen's about a company." She named the company, hating the lie she had been rehearsing before he came. "They are reorganizing. If you haven't been there, I think it would be worth looking into."

He brightened instantly. "First thing tomorrow morning."

She went to sleep happy that night, thinking, "Jeff will be different when we are married. We'll always be together then. Troy will know it isn't any use—that Jeff loves me. He'll settle down and work hard and make Stephen glad he helped him."

And although less than a week later Jeff was working, he seemed neither to be glad to be busy again nor pleased with a position that paid considerably less than his former one. And Lyle knew that his pride was suffering because in the new position he had neither authority nor friends.

One evening when Bonnie was out, Mrs. Ryan came from the kitchen and knocked at the door of Lyle's room. Lyle told her to come in and paused at her drawing.

Mrs. Ryan looked troubled. "I haven't said anything to Mrs. Hill about this. I guess I should have. But Mr. Hill has been here a couple of times during the day to see the baby. I don't know whether to let him in . . ."

Now Lyle looked troubled. "Are you certain it was Mr. Hill?"

"Oh, yes. He identified himself." She shook her head. "Mike was glad to see him. Remembered him. I didn't know what to do, Miss Lyle. He was here again today. He offered me money not to tell Mrs Hill but I wouldn't take it."

After a moment Lyle said, "Don't worry. I'll tell Mrs. Hill about it. I'll have to, of course."

So Michael had come back to see his son! Lyle felt a wave of sympathy for him in spite of what he had done.

She waited for Bonnie and told her.

Bonnie said, "I told him in a letter that he could see Mike. He doesn't have to bribe Mrs. Ryan to see him Lyle, call him tomorrow and tell him I don't mind his coming here—when I'm not here."

She called Michael the next day at his office.

When she told him, he said, "Thank you, Lyle. I didn't think I had any right to see him. He's—he's grown. Tell Bonnie I won't come often. How is she?"

"She's fine. And working Michael. . . ."

"There's nothing more to say Thanks again."

Often of late she had wondered at Stephen's silence. Occasionally they passed in the store and he would nod and smile and pass on. That he who had been both a staunch and an amusing friend had elected to step out of her life hurt Lyle. Would there be no more week-ends at the lovely Connecticut place with his attractive friends, no more going to sleep, feeling safe and protected, against his tweed shoulder? She thought, "I suppose he feels that Jeff and I no longer need him."

Utilities Soften Tumble in Prices On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP).—Profit-taking tripped up industrial stocks in today's market, but strength of utilities, many of which climbed into new high territory for the past year, softened the tumble.

Wall Street was still optimistic in the matter of business recovery, but some analysts questioned the ability of the list to continue its lengthy upward flight without taking time out for a breather.

Prices had been tilting forward for more than two weeks, with only two slight interruptions. Speculative forces apparently decided to lighten commitments in recently buoyant leaders on the theory a correction was in the offing.

The setback came, but it was moderate. The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was off .3 of a point at 52.6, the largest day's decline since September 26. The utility composite, offsetting the drop in the industrial and rail averages, was up .6 of a point at a new peak since last October.

Utility loans became the leads of today's bond market, as traders cashed in paper profits on the recently strong rails. Utilities rose .3 in The Associated Press average.

Parts of the foreign list continued nervously, although some recently weak Japanese and Italian obligations rallied. Czech 8's of '51 dropped 5 to 75.

TIME OUT! - - - By Chet Smith

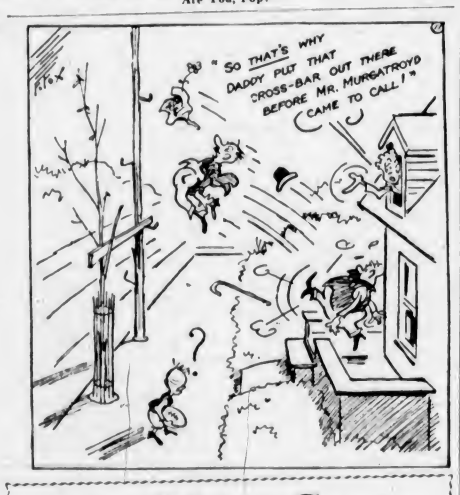

"Gimme a Ringside, Pal!"

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"You're Not Going to Let a Poor Report Card Spoil Our Friendship, Are You, Pop?"

Jane Dixon Says:

ONE WOMAN WANTS TO KNOW WHICH OF FOUR MEN TO MARRY —ANOTHER IS IN LOVE WITH A MAN WHO SEEMS TO HAVE UNDERGONE A CHANGE OF HEART.

Young love is like the sun and the rain; here, too much of it, there, too little.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am in my late twenties and have been asked by four men to marry them. I'm puzzled about what to do. Not that I'm so popular, pretty or attractive; but I just seem to get along with men. I never pick on them or ask them a lot of questions. One of them has been forbidden to come to our house, but he sneaks a visit when he can. I went with a fellow a number of years, but gave him up and now, though he goes with another girl, he doesn't want me to have anyone else. He crosses my path at every turn, and just for spite tries to make trouble for me. He does his best to ruin my life. It seems the only way I can get rid of him is to go away. One of the four men is six years younger than I, and I hesitate to accept him because of his youth, though he is the best of the lot. What to do?—Worried M.

Comment: If you do not know beyond a shadow of doubt which of the four men is necessary to your happiness, then no one of them is important as a marital candidate. If you are considering marriage as a convenience, list the good and bad points of each candidate, balance them, and the one who shows the best answer on the plus side is the winner. That is as safe a method as any other in a gambling game. But why gamble in a matter as sacred as marriage?

As for the young man who will not "let you alone," if he crosses your path without accosting you, ignore him. If he molests you or seeks to damage your reputation, take legal steps to stop him.

Dear Jane Dixon: How can a girl hold the man she loves? This Summer I fell deeply in love with a man. He seemed to care for me at first, but now he acts as though I didn't exist. He told me he loved me more than any girl he ever knew. Yet he makes a date with me only now an then, and tells me he never received the notes I wrote him. Almost every date he makes with me he breaks. When I wrote and told him I'd have to give him up if he went on breaking dates, because my parents objected he was so angry he stopped speaking to me. I'm sorry. Do you think I should apologize, or that he would accept my apology? He is a young man of good habits and, so far as I know, has not gone with another girl since we quit. I'm desperate. What shall I do?—Very Sad.

Comment: What on earth would you apologize for, my dear Sad? You can't very well apologize to him for his lack of courtesy, can you? If he cared to "date" you regularly, he would do so, since obviously you are willing. The fact he told you he loved you then, does not mean he must love you now. Keep out of his presence as much as possible, and when you do meet him, speak pleasantly and naturally as one friend would speak to another. And accept this as a truth from which there is no appeal—love which does not belong to us can not be held.

A CERTAIN DIFFERENCE

An Englishman and an American were presented to the dusky monarch of an Eastern kingdom, and were very graciously received.

Turning to the Englishman, the potentate remarked:

"I understand that you are a British subject?"

"I am," replied the Englishman proudly.

"And you," continued the monarch, "are a subject of the United States?"

"Subject—nothing," retorted the American. "I guess I own part of the United States."

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m.; from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m.; from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m., and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

Surmising can get you into a lot of trouble this day. You must not guess at anything important. Actual knowledge will prove in more than one way to be the power back of all worthwhile achievements. Nearly every miscalculation in figures, distances, and food requirements probably will be due to interruptions and distractions, so concentrate on whatever you are doing. People, as a whole, are likely to react favorably to good suggestions tactfully made. Through the keenness of perception little in the line of deception is likely to succeed. This is a good day to seek a quiet place and spend a little time in meditating. Thoughts are apt to come to you that will be helpful in many ways. Married and engaged couples, and those who are planning a matrimonial future together, must refrain from getting excited over trifles this day.

If a woman and October 15 is your birthday, with little effort you ought to be able to develop a very retentive memory. However, let your recollections be only of pleasant incidents, and try to dismiss unhappy ones from your thoughts. Your attitude towards the world in general may be influenced by your reflections and association of ideas, particularly those regarding friends and their actions. Women born on this date ought to do exceedingly well in work of an educational, literary, dramatic or musical nature. Marriage is likely to be the best medium for you to find lasting happiness.

The child born on October 15, has generally an easy-going disposition, until aroused, and then, the chances are, the latent amount of energy that has been stored up, is likely to be amazing when released. This youngster usually has a great deal of intellectual depth, which may be largely responsible for its success.

If a man and October 15 is your natal day, concentrate your efforts on doing one thing well. Refrain from having too many irons in the fire at the same time if you wish your hopes for making money and a name to be realized. Law, medicine, journalism, authorship, acting, selling, manufacturing or musical work are among the activities that might lead to success.

Thirty is a nice age for a woman, states a woman novelist. We agree—especially when she is over forty.

MONKEY MONEY

Let us hope we don't all get to it!

Many years ago Paris passed a law levying a tax upon every animal crossing the Petit Pont or Little Bridge entering the city.

Exempted, however, was the showman's monkey, which could go in toll-free, if it performed its tricks for the tax collector.

So was born the expression, "monkey money," meaning "service."

Clerk—Did you say that you wanted some Spanish onions ma'am?

Customer—Yes, but be sure that they are not from the insurgents.
